SALARY DISPUTE APPEAL LOST BY STATE COMMISSION

St. Paul, Dec. 11.—(UP)—The state commission of administration and finance today lost ist appeal to the supreme court for a reversal of the lower court decision favoring the state railroad and warehouse commission in a dispute between the two bodies over salary fixing power.

The opinion of the supreme court brings an end to the fight over authority begun last July when the "Big Three" disallowed that part of the railroad and warehouse commission budget which called for salary increases for three employes.

Holding that the administration body had not classified all individual employes as required by law up to the time the budget was submitted, Judge R. D. O'Brien, Ramsey county court, ruled it had no authority over the salaries. This decision was upheld by the supreme court.

ENGLAND WILL MAINTAIN HER RIGHTS AS USUAL

BRITISH COLONIAL SECRETARY MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

SITUATION REGARDING MOSUL PROBLEM IS DELICATE ONE

By HENRY WOOD
(Copyright, 1925, by United States)

Geneva, Dec. 11.—"If war is forced onto us England will maintain her rights as she has always done," declared British Colonial Secretary L. C. M. S. Amery, in an exclusive interview with the United Press today. He was discussing the delicate situation surrounding the League of Nations efforts to reach a decision as to the future control of the oil district of Mosul.

"The British government," he continued, "is not pursuing an aggressive policy, is not seeking fresh territorial responsibilities nor a war, but if war is forced as a result of responsibilities already assumed, she will fulfill her duty."

The League council late last night suspended temporarily all sessions to permit of a final effort to reach a mutually acceptable solution of the Mosul dispute.

Today the council decided to modify this decision and to resume sittings this afternoon on minor questions, deferring further discussion of Mosul as long as there was a possibility of reaching a direct amicable settlement.

Members continued to study possible courses to be taken if the Turks should attack Mosul. The hauteur which had marked the Turks' position on Thursday when Tewfik Rouschi Bey, foreign minister-delegate, planned to return to Turkey, had weakened with the opening of the Laidoner report on alleged Turkish deportations and abuse of Christians driven out of the Mosul area.

Amery himself was doubtful that a council decision in favor of Britain would be followed by Turk war. Nevertheless he indicated clearly that England would amply meet such a threat.

"Under the Sevres treaty which the Turk accepted," he observed, "Mosul was included integrally in the kingdom of Iraq.

"When the Turkish government was overthrown the new Turkish government began to claim Mosul, which constitutes one-fourth of the area of Iraq and the richest part.

"Cession of Mosul to Turkey would mean economic ruin. And the question of the district's population would be very grave. Twenty thousand Christians have fled from the portion of the district still under Turkish jurisdiction and if Mosul were ceded to Turkey, 80,000 Christians would be obliged to flee from deportations and atrocities.

"England (under her mandate) established in Iraq a democratic government which is a novelty in the Near East and this has been progressing steadily. To abandon it now would be fatal.

"If Mosul were given to the Turks it is certain that their first step would be reprisals against Christians and also an effort completely to stamp out the large Kurdish population in pursuance with their policy of several years to wipe out all racial minorities. We are ready to accept any decision of the League."

A contact between the Turks and British was achieved this afternoon, Amery meeting Tewfik Rouschi Bey and the Mosul sub-commission thereafter meeting to call separately the two delegates. A compromise solution was considered possible.

Meantime the council was drafting a special invitation to America to aid in the proposed disarmament conference work, in conformity with President Coolidge's recent message by sitting in the commission for preparation of the parley. The text will be made public after it has been delivered in Washington.

60 MINERS ARE BELIEVED LOST, ALABAMA MINE

RESCUE PARTIES WORK ALL NIGHT NEAR BIRMINGHAM

GAS EXPLOSION IN OVERTON NO. TWO MINE YESTERDAY

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 11—(UP)—Working all night, rescue parties one by one were bringing to the surface the bodies of sixty miners believed killed in the gas explosion in the Overton Number 2 mine near here yesterday.

At an early hour today the bodies of 22 of the miners suffocated by the after-damp had been recovered. Rescue workers believe that at least 38 others remain below.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 11.—With estimates of the deaths running as high as 60, fresh rescue crews went into the depths of the Overton No. 2 mine today in search of additional bodies of miners killed in a gas explosion yesterday.

All night long, workers, stimulated by cups of steaming coffee cooked at small stoves set up at the mine mouth, labored to remove some of the debris and at dawn had brought 22 bodies to the surface.

Officials of the mine believe that 38 or 39 still remain below.

Groups of sorrowing relatives of the miners remained about the scene until an early hour today and then, shaken by the bitter cold, sadly left their homes only to return in a few hours.

There was no hope that any of the miners still below the surface are alive and officials of the Alabama Fuel Company's Overton mine, said the death toll could be estimated between between 56 and 60.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined. The Overton mine is a gaseous pit and only electric lamps were used by the workmen. It was equipped with modern safety devices.

Of the 60 supposed to be dead, only about 10 are believed to be white, the rest negroes. Five were seriously injured and only 15 escaped alive. Estimates of the number in the mine at the time of the blast varies from 90 to 100.

T. C. Yarbrough, one of the miners who managed to escape alive, told of the excitement that prevailed when the explosion rocked the mine.

"There was a tremendous crash and a deafening concussion which knocked us to our knees," he said. "Eleven negros working near me were thrown into a panic. We ran into the second layer but were prevented from going further by the air fan. So we returned to the air vent and stayed there until the rescue crew came upon us."

ASSERTS GOV. SORLIE HAD NO POWER TO APPOINT SEN. NYE

Washington, Dec. 11. — (UP) — The Republican state committee of North Dakota today entered the fight against the appointment of Sen. Gerald P. Nye, insurgent, when its representative, O. B. Burtness, appeared before the senate privileges and elections committee demanding Nye be prevented from taking his seat.

Burtness asserted that Gov. Sorlie of North Dakota did not have power to fill senate vacancies by appointment under the law.

"The law passed by the North Dakota legislature gives the power to the governor to fill vacancies in state ocices inly," Burtness said. "The law was passed with intent to give the governor authority to fill the office of state's attorney and no attempt was made to include United States senators.

"If the legislature did intend to include United States senators that law would have conflicted with the 17th amendment to the United States constitution.

"We do not believe that the position of United States senator can be construed as a state office, because the federal constitution provides how senators shall be elected, the number to be elected and how they shall vote. Their salaries are paid out of the federal treasury and they take the oath of allegiance to the United States and not to the state."

Representative Voight, Republican, Wisconsin, representing Nye, presented a brief and argued that Nye should be permitted to take his seat. Voight said that the legislature had empowered the governor to fill any office temporarily.

"There never was an office that wasn't filled by appointment," Voight said. "The legislature could not have used any stronger language when it specified that state legislative officers were the only exceptions to which the governor could not appoint."

FARMER KILLED WHEN STRUCK BETWEEN EYES

BODY OF TIMOTHY SHEA, ADDISON, FOUND ALONG ROAD

CORONER'S JURY SOON TO REPORTS ITS FINDINGS

Bath, N. Y., Dec. 11. — (UP) — Pending findings of a coroner's jury as to the death of Timothy Shea, Addison farmer, District Attorney Guy W. Cheney today investigated the connection of Michael Enright eldest brother of Police Commissioner Richard Enright of New York City, with the killing.

Shea died when he was struck between the eyes with an axe. The body was found yesterday on a little travelled road near the Enright farm.

County authorities talked with Enright and said he appeared nervous. He at first declined to comment but later said that he and Shea had "had several drinks together' on Wednesday night.

Enright had stains on his clothing which the officers took to be blood. In a woodshed was found a single-bitted axe covered with blood.

So far as can be learned Enright and Shea were close personal friends and had never quarreled. Both were unmarried and about 58 years old.

Enright had charge of the farm owned by Police Commissioner Enright and usually managed by another brother, William.

DENIES TRACES OF POISON FOUND

POLICE OF KANSAS CITY CONTINUE INVESTIGATION OF MRS. HIGHTOWER'S DEATH

Kansas City, Dec. 11.—(UP) — Despite the denial of Dr. Charles Nelson, deputy coroner, that traces of poison were found in the stomach of Mrs. Opal M. Hightower who died Wednesday, police today continued their investigation into the woman's death. Ernest Hightower, the woman's husband, was being held in jail as was Mrs. Nellie Wassweiler, the "other woman" in the case.

Mrs. Wassweiler admitted that she and Hightower had lived together as common law man and wife. She also said she had visited the Hightowers a few days before Mrs. Hightower's death.

Dr. Nelson said the woman's death was caused by peritonitis rather than by bichloride of mercury poisoning. Hightower had told police his wife took mercury tablets by mistake.

REVEREND STELZLE MAKES STATEMENT AT CHURCH COUNCIL

SAYS PROHIBITION SITUATION IS CRITICAL AND VERY UNSATISFACTORY

"EXCEPT TO THE BOOTLEGGERS," SAYS REVEREND STELZLE

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Prohibition cannot be effective until such time as the people are "educated to acceptance of the dry laws," Rev. Dr. Charles Stelzle, of New York, declared at the meeting of the executive committee of the federal council of churches in session here today.

The prohibition situation is critical, and very unsatisfactory, except to the bootleggers, the minister declared.

"Unfortunately prohibition in the minds of many of its advocates is purely a moral issue, and it is assumed that those who are opposing it are necessarily immoral," Dr. Stelzle said.

"There can be no question regarding the attitude of the great mass of working men throughout the United States toward prohibition. There has been a growing feeling of resentment against what is presumed to be sumptuary legislation, which not only has denied them what they believe is their natural rights, but which has had practically no effect upon the rich of the country, who may secure as much liquor of every kind as they desire."

Plans for a series of conferences on community organization under the joint auspices of the council's special service commission and the University of Florida were announced today, as were arrangements for industrial conferences in Chicago, Milwaukee, Appleton, Wis., and Buffalo.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 11.—The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, through its executive committee today unanimously adopted a resolution placing the council squarely behind a proposal for a national education campaign in the interest of prohibition.

Without officially undertaking the campaign itself, the council indicated by its action unanimous support of any movement toward that end.

MOVE TO CURB POWERS OF THE PARDON BOARD

CHICAGO BOARD RELEASED A CONFESSED MURDERER

WAS MILLIONAIRE'S SON, FEAR SAME ACTION FOR LEOPOLD AND LOEB

Chicago, Dec. 11—(UP)—Fearing that the release of Ira D. Perry, Jr., millionaire's son, who was sentenced to life in prison for a confessed murder, might pave the way to similar action in the case of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, Chicago officials and lawyers today started a move to curb the powers of the state board of pardons and paroles.

Perry, released without the knowledge of Chicago law officers, served approximately three years of his life term. He has fled the state, George E. Gorman, assistant state's attorney, declared.

Enraged by the release, Gorman and other law enforcement officials are searching for Perry to push several other charges against him.

A newly discovered legislative act empowers the board of pardons and paroles to diminish the punishment fixed by judge and jury.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, who prosecuted the Perry case and the famous Leopold and Loeb murder case, Charles R. Holden, head of the Chicago crime commission, Russell Whitman, president of the Chicago Bar Association, judge, and others plan to have the law repealed.

Several days ago it became known that Perry had been freed. At the offices of the parole board it was declared mitigating circumstances had been found with the consequent favorable action on the appeal for diminishing of punishment.

Perry is believed hiding in Iowa.

PRE-HOLIDAY CRIME WAVE RAGES 12 HOURS

CLIMAXED IN CHICAGO WITH THE KILLING OF TWO MEN

DOZENS OF ROBBERIES AND HOLDUPS REPORTED TO HEADQUARTERS

Chicago, Dec. 11.—(UP)—A pre-holiday crime wave of 12 hours' duration was climaxed early today with the killing of two men and the wounding of another.

A man identified as John Miller was shot to death by three policemen who apprehended him in the act of holding up a restaurant.

Louis Renoux, a French world war veteran and a reputed bootlegger, was slain by robbers who posed as prohibition agents and gained admittance to his home with announcement they had come to search it.

Matthew Lusk was wounded and captured by a policeman who caught him holding up a drugstore. Lusk's companion in the robbery escaped.

Dozens of robberies and holdups were reported to headquarters between 3 P. M. yestrday and 3 A. M. today.

CROOKSTON BUSINESS MEN ROBBED OF $250

WINDOWS BROKEN IN THE REAR AND STORES WERE LOOTED

CHAIN STORE WAS ONE OF THE HEAVIEST LOSERS, REPORTED

Crookston, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Merchants in the down town business section today estimated their losses from a series of burglaries here last night at $250.

The robbers entered a number of stores all by the same method of breaking windows in the rear and looting establishments without using explosives.

A chain store was the heaviest loser, according to the reports. It was said to have missed $225 but refused by order from its headquarters either to confirm or deny the report.

Two other places lost small amounts from cash registers. Except for two watches taken from a pool hall nothing but cash was missed.

60 MINERS ARE BELIEVED LOST, ALABAMA MINE

RESCUE PARTIES WORK ALL NIGHT NEAR BIRMINGHAM

GAS EXPLOSION IN OVERTON NO. TWO MINE YESTERDAY

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 11—(UP)—Working all night, rescue parties one by one were bringing to the surface the bodies of sixty miners believed killed in the gas explosion in the Overton Number 2 mine near here yesterday.

At an early hour today the bodies of 22 of the miners suffocated by the after-damp had been recovered. Rescue workers believe that at least 38 others remain below.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 11.—With estimates of the deaths running as high as 60, fresh rescue crews went into the depths of the Overton No. 2 mine today in search of additional bodies of miners killed in a gas explosion yesterday.

All night long, workers, stimulated by cups of steaming coffee cooked at small stoves set up at the mine mouth, labored to remove some of the debris and at dawn had brought 22 bodies to the surface.

Officials of the mine believe that 38 or 39 still remain below.

Groups of sorrowing relatives of the miners remained about the scene until an early hour today and then, shaken by the bitter cold, sadly left their homes only to return in a few hours.

There was no hope that any of the miners still below the surface are alive and officials of the Alabama Fuel Company's Overton mine, said the death toll could be estimated between between 56 and 60.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined. The Overton mine is a gaseous pit and only electric lamps were used by the workmen. It was equipped with modern safety devices.

Of the 60 supposed to be dead, only about 10 are believed to be white, the rest negroes. Five were seriously injured and only 15 escaped alive. Estimates of the number in the mine at the time of the blast varies from 90 to 100.

T. C. Yarbrough, one of the miners who managed to escape alive, told of the excitement that prevailed when the explosion rocked the mine.

"There was a tremendous crash and a deafening concussion which knocked us to our knees," he said. "Eleven negros working near me were thrown into a panic. We ran into the second layer but were prevented from going further by the air fan. So we returned to the air vent and stayed there until the rescue crew came upon us."

ASSERTS GOV. SORLIE HAD NO POWER TO APPOINT SEN. NYE

Washington, Dec. 11. — (UP) — The Republican state committee of North Dakota today entered the fight against the appointment of Sen. Gerald P. Nye, insurgent, when its representative, O. B. Burtness, appeared before the senate privileges and elections committee demanding Nye be prevented from taking his seat.

Burtness asserted that Gov. Sorlie of North Dakota did not have power to fill senate vacancies by appointment under the law.

"The law passed by the North Dakota legislature gives the power to the governor to fill vacancies in state ocices inly," Burtness said. "The law was passed with intent to give the governor authority to fill the office of state's attorney and no attempt was made to include United States senators.

"If the legislature did intend to include United States senators that law would have conflicted with the 17th amendment to the United States constitution.

"We do not believe that the position of United States senator can be construed as a state office, because the federal constitution provides how senators shall be elected, the number to be elected and how they shall vote. Their salaries are paid out of the federal treasury and they take the oath of allegiance to the United States and not to the state."

Representative Voight, Republican, Wisconsin, representing Nye, presented a brief and argued that Nye should be permitted to take his seat. Voight said that the legislature had empowered the governor to fill any office temporarily.

"There never was an office that wasn't filled by appointment," Voight said. "The legislature could not have used any stronger language when it specified that state legislative officers were the only exceptions to which the governor could not appoint."

Minneapolis, Dec. 11. — (UP) — Hardy Bryant, 55, shot and seriously wounded his wife, then killed himself, at noon today. The attack and suicide took place at a hotel here. Bryant was employed by a railroad. Officials are investigating cause of the shooting.

FOREIGN AIR COMPANIES GET BASES IN AMERICA

Washington, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Plans and schedules of foreign-owned air companies which have obtained control of airways surrounding the Panama canal were detailed by Major George V. Strong, of the army general staff, at the Mitchell court martial today.

Strong declared that a French company had obtained exclusive air concessions in Guatemala and a German concern had "tied up" the best Central America to United States airway with bases in Key West, Cuba, Mexico and Colombia.

FARMER KILLED WHEN STRUCK BETWEEN EYES

BODY OF TIMOTHY SHEA, ADDISON, FOUND ALONG ROAD

CORONER'S JURY SOON TO REPORTS ITS FINDINGS

Bath, N. Y., Dec. 11. — (UP) — Pending findings of a coroner's jury as to the death of Timothy Shea, Addison farmer, District Attorney Guy W. Cheney today investigated the connection of Michael Enright eldest brother of Police Commissioner Richard Enright of New York City, with the killing.

Shea died when he was struck between the eyes with an axe. The body was found yesterday on a little travelled road near the Enright farm.

County authorities talked with Enright and said he appeared nervous. He at first declined to comment but later said that he and Shea had "had several drinks together' on Wednesday night.

Enright had stains on his clothing which the officers took to be blood. In a woodshed was found a single-bitted axe covered with blood.

So far as can be learned Enright and Shea were close personal friends and had never quarreled. Both were unmarried and about 58 years old.

Enright had charge of the farm owned by Police Commissioner Enright and usually managed by another brother, William.

STEELE COUNTY TO FORM RANGERS

Owatonna, Minn., Dec. 11.—(UP)—First active steps toward organization of a Steele county company of the Minnesota rangers were taken today following a meeting of the organization committee of the County Bankers' association. The meeting authorized immediate listing of men to be deputized by Sheriff Joseph Fisher to serve as members of the protective organization.

DENIES TRACES OF POISON FOUND

POLICE OF KANSAS CITY CONTINUE INVESTIGATION OF MRS. HIGHTOWER'S DEATH

Kansas City, Dec. 11.—(UP) — Despite the denial of Dr. Charles Nelson, deputy coroner, that traces of poison were found in the stomach of Mrs. Opal M. Hightower who died Wednesday, police today continued their investigation into the woman's death. Ernest Hightower, the woman's husband, was being held in jail as was Mrs. Nellie Wassweiler, the "other woman" in the case.

Mrs. Wassweiler admitted that she and Hightower had lived together as common law man and wife. She also said she had visited the Hightowers a few days before Mrs. Hightower's death.

Dr. Nelson said the woman's death was caused by peritonitis rather than by bichloride of mercury poisoning. Hightower had told police his wife took mercury tablets by mistake.

REVEREND STELZLE MAKES STATEMENT AT CHURCH COUNCIL

SAYS PROHIBITION SITUATION IS CRITICAL AND VERY UNSATISFACTORY

"EXCEPT TO THE BOOTLEGGERS," SAYS REVEREND STELZLE

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Prohibition cannot be effective until such time as the people are "educated to acceptance of the dry laws," Rev. Dr. Charles Stelzle, of New York, declared at the meeting of the executive committee of the federal council of churches in session here today.

The prohibition situation is critical, and very unsatisfactory, except to the bootleggers, the minister declared.

"Unfortunately prohibition in the minds of many of its advocates is purely a moral issue, and it is assumed that those who are opposing it are necessarily immoral," Dr. Stelzle said.

"There can be no question regarding the attitude of the great mass of working men throughout the United States toward prohibition. There has been a growing feeling of resentment against what is presumed to be sumptuary legislation, which not only has denied them what they believe is their natural rights, but which has had practically no effect upon the rich of the country, who may secure as much liquor of every kind as they desire."

Plans for a series of conferences on community organization under the joint auspices of the council's special service commission and the University of Florida were announced today, as were arrangements for industrial conferences in Chicago, Milwaukee, Appleton, Wis., and Buffalo.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 11.—The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, through its executive committee today unanimously adopted a resolution placing the council squarely behind a proposal for a national education campaign in the interest of prohibition.

Without officially undertaking the campaign itself, the council indicated by its action unanimous support of any movement toward that end.

MOVE TO CURB POWERS OF THE PARDON BOARD

CHICAGO BOARD RELEASED A CONFESSED MURDERER

WAS MILLIONAIRE'S SON, FEAR SAME ACTION FOR LEOPOLD AND LOEB

Chicago, Dec. 11—(UP)—Fearing that the release of Ira D. Perry, Jr., millionaire's son, who was sentenced to life in prison for a confessed murder, might pave the way to similar action in the case of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, Chicago officials and lawyers today started a move to curb the powers of the state board of pardons and paroles.

Perry, released without the knowledge of Chicago law officers, served approximately three years of his life term. He has fled the state, George E. Gorman, assistant state's attorney, declared.

Enraged by the release, Gorman and other law enforcement officials are searching for Perry to push several other charges against him.

A newly discovered legislative act empowers the board of pardons and paroles to diminish the punishment fixed by judge and jury.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, who prosecuted the Perry case and the famous Leopold and Loeb murder case, Charles R. Holden, head of the Chicago crime commission, Russell Whitman, president of the Chicago Bar Association, judge, and others plan to have the law repealed.

Several days ago it became known that Perry had been freed. At the offices of the parole board it was declared mitigating circumstances had been found with the consequent favorable action on the appeal for diminishing of punishment.

Perry is believed hiding in Iowa.

COMMUNITY NEWS HAS FIRST PLACE

IN the ordinary country daily, home news holds first place and then comes world news. This was demonstrated when our friend, D. D. Meredith, northwest manager of the United Press Association, held a "news service" round table at the Faribault weekly Rotary luncheon.

As reported in the Faribault Daily News, other interesting things were brought out in the discussion. Sport news held third place. Agricultural and educational news tied for fourth place in the preference of the Rotarians, and editorials followed. Taxation, amusements and entertainment ,features and comics, political news, the weather and markets followed.

Reading advertisements apparently is of daily interest with Faribault Rotarians and one man said he read the advertisements before he read anything else in the paper. Local agricultural news stood out as the leader in interest in a copy of the paper distributed at the tables.

Mr. Meredith told briefly of the organization of the United Press Association and some of its methods in producing and distributing world news. He gave the newspaperman's viewpoint of what news interests the most readers and pointed to the fact that the modern newspaper is the servant of its community. He urged Rotarians to take advantage of the fact that the local newspaper is the community's greatest single assets for the advancement of community interests.

However, a perusal of the front page of the Faribault Daily News of November 30 shows that the complete service of the United Press is not carried. THE BRAINERD DISPATCH gets the United Press full leased wire service by printer-telegraph, starting at 7 a. m. and running continuously to 3 p. m. The Faribault front page (a seven column paper with 20 inch columns) gave news in this proportion: United Press 45 inches ,Brisbane editorial 17 inches, home news 78 inches. THE DISPATCH, as a rule, features United Press on the front page and home news on the rest of the seven pages of its edition, also carrying over many U. P. stories from the front page.

It would be interesting to have Mr. Meredith conduct his round table discussion at the local Rotary club and get the preferences of the forty or more professional and business men. It is hoped that some time in the future when Mr. Meredith makes one of his periodic calls in this vicinity, that he choose a Tuesday to be here and hobnob with the Rotarians.

REMEMBER THE LIBRARY

ONE of the best institutions in Brainerd is our public library. Working with a modest appropriation, it has accomplished wonders. Extensions in departments have been made and the juvenile department especially is growing so rapidly that more books and room are required.

Money derived from taxation does not meet the needs of the library. We suggest to people who may wish to do good in this community that the donation of books and money will serve a fine purpose by being given the library.

The library board is most appreciative and grateful when such public spirit is shown. THE DISPATCH suggests to people making their wills, for instance, that real public spirit can be shown if a bequest is made in favor of the library.

If you cannot give anything individually, then bring up the matter of a donation at your lodge or club. The Northeast Brainerd Improvement League gave $5 the other day. The United Commercial Travelers meet this Saturday and an effort will be made to have $5 donated too.

Scores of children are being attracted to the library and the continued and growing success of this department is assured. When you give anything to the library, you are helping build up a real institution for good, for character moulding, for constructive citizenship.

We never knew before how carefully library affairs are administered, how every dollar is made to do full 100 per cent duty, how every purchase is scanned, how every improvement is considered, until we heard the president of the library board, Mrs. Rasch, speak the other evening. Let us all help where we can.

TRUNK HIGHWAYS IN GOOD SHAPE

Minnesota trunk highways, the 7,000-mile system of 'Babcock roads,' are open to travel except on a few routes in the southeastern section of the state, as reported today in a bulletin from the state highway department. Trunk routes are rated fair to good over the big mileage, in spite of a general snow fall, more than a foot deep in several sections.

Hard, wind-packed drifts, four feet and more deep, made snow removal difficult in the southeastern part of the state and powerful plows made slow progress.

Good, fair and passable ratings, however, are continued on all except snow-blocked routes and the bulletin of conditions today follows, insofar as it refers to Brainerd Lake Region:

T. H. No. 2—Duluth, Brainerd, Wadena, Detroit and Moorhead—264 miles—Duluth, good—Staples, fair—Wadena, good—Moorhead.

T. H. No. 18—Elk River, Milaca, Garrison and Brainerd—102 miles—All good.

T. H. No. 19—Brainerd, Walker and Cass Lake—97 miles—All good.

T. H. No. 27—St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd—66 miles—St. Cloud—paved—Belle Prairie, good 25 mile detour—Brainerd.

Three Men Questioned on Sears and Latimer Deaths

Chicago, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Three men were arrested in connection with the murders of James Sears and Madeline Latimer, killed along a lonely road near Kenosha, Wis., and were taken to Kenosha today to be questioned further.

The men were returned in charge of Deputy Sheriff R. A. Williams and Dist. Atty. Louis Powell, both of Kenosha, after they had undergone a quizzing by Chicago police.

The three were: Frank Wilson, George Novak and Heyworth Palmer. Palmer is the owner of a roadhouse eight miles from Kenosha.

Police said Wilson and Novak admitted two burglaries in Kenosha two months ago. One was the robbery of the Zabel-Martin warehouse Oct. 15. This was about the time Sears and Miss Latimer were slain.

The trio was taken into custody after Palmer's ownership of an automobile, resembling one which had been sought in connection with the murders, came to the attention of authorities. Palmer said he had purchased it from Wilson and Novak and they also were taken into custody.

During a long examination by Lieut. John Ford of the Chicago detective bureau, Wilson and Novak persistently denied knowledge of the murders.

Too Much for Sheriff

A zealous peace officer at Normangee, Texas, intrusted with the collection of a judgment of $160 against the Southern Pacific lines, halted a train, and with a log chain and a lock anchored the engine to a siding. Then the officials demanded that the sheriff remove the attached property from the railway right-of-way. However much he wished to comply with the request, there were fundamental difficulties in the way, and the sheriff had to admit defeat.—Indianapolis News.

Wants Municipal Skating Rink

Brainerd, Minn.
Dec. 11, 1925.

The Brainerd Daily Dispatch.
Gentlemen:-

I am very much interested in the proposition of having a municipal skating rink. Ice skating is a good, clean, healthy outdoor sport. Brainerd being one of Minnesota's health spots should advocate healthy out of door sports and amusements and support same. Brainerd can afford a municipal skating rink. Anyone of us would hesitate to tell any other town that we can not afford one. Really, we can not afford to be without one. If not a free rink, why not charge a small fee. Surely this would go a long way in maintaining a rink and furthermore there are more anxious skaters awaiting the outcome of the proposed rink than some people are aware of.

Here's hoping we get a square deal and we'll do our bit in patronizing the rink.

"BISHOP OF WALL STREET" WILL FILED

New York, Dec. 11.—(UP)—The will of the Rev. William Wilkinson, known for many years as "the bishop of Wall street" was filed for probate in the New York county surrogate's court here today.

Rev. Wilkinson, who died on Monday, will be buried in Minneapolis, Minn., tomorow. The exact amount of his estate is not given, but is expressed as "over $4,000."

A son, Gilbert Clarence Wilkinson of Portland, Ore., is left a tray, described as "the Wall street silver tray." The historic George Washington bible and flag, presented to "Bishop" Wilkinson by the American Goodwill Union, are bequeathed to a grandson, William Wilkinson, also of Portland, but they are to remain permanently in the care of the Minnesota Historical society of St. Paul, Minn. The society was bequeathed outright a portrait of Bishop Whipple and one of Charles H. Pillsbury.

Mrs. James MacLean Herchmer, a daughter, is named executrix along with another daughter, Sarah H. Wilkinson and the widow, Mrs. Pauline Wilkinson, the residue of the estate is left to the widow, the two daughters all of whom reside at 4028 Grand Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

CROWDS TO SEE JUNIOR BENEFIT

Families Separated, Wives Lose Husbands in Crush at Park Last Night to See Juniors

SEVERAL MISSED THE SHOW

Vodvil Took House by Storm And Sorry Mr. Finkelstein And Mr. Ruben Weren't There

Was the Junior benefit show a success last night? Ask a thousand men, women and children today and they'll say in one grand chorus: "Best show we ever saw."

Some "vodvil" was put on that was a real winner. In fact, it was so good that some patrons said that if Mr. Finkelstein and Mr. Ruben had been in the audience they would sign up some for one of their circuits.

And the crowds! At 7:10 the first show was packed and crowds hung around the outside waiting to get in. Some never got in. M. E. Morrison, treasurer of the school board, made two attempts in the crowd and couldn't even get his foot in the front door.

In the crush at the front gate at the time of the second show, whole families got separated in the seething maelstrom of humanity. Mrs. C. W. Milkes lost her husband but found him later in the show. A family from Pillager got so separated that at last reports all the kids have not yet been located.

Dolly Quinlin and Lena Gravelle are the polite and accomodating ushers of the Park, but when the crowd seethed in they were swept aside like flakes of foam in a spring freshet.

We have heard nothing but "vodvil" for weeks, for the writer lives across the street from Zita Miller, and Zita plays in the orchestra and sold us two tickets.

John Fisher and Raymond Anderson appeared as the magicians and put up a wonderful line of talk and then introduced their magic machine to the audience. Its outside mechanism consisted of a Ford pump and an indicator which registered up to 200 above zero. A treatment in the machine would give the occupant a realization of any wish he wanted to come true. The machine worked true to form and never bucked once.

Helen Paine was first up with a wish when the magicians asked for recruits. Helen sounded a wish to talk English and after machine treatment gave two recitations. Helen is always good. We heard her at the Lincoln carnival and she sure can register emotion in an elocutionary way. She told about Paul Revere's ride and that he ought to be credited with one thing. Paul started his wild ride without making any introductory speech.

Dorothy Shepherd said she wanted to shed her flapper regalia and be an old-fashioned girl and after severe pumping by the two professors of magic, the machine door was opened and Dorothy had her wish granted.

Four couples sang songs of long ago and were charmingly attired in old fashioned costumes. They were Messrs. Bun Mraz, Russell Putz, Rudolph Molstad and Calvin Orth and the beautiful ladies were Marian Liners, Dorothy Deering, Dana Peterson and Dorothy Shepherd.

Frank Fruth is a short boy and wanted to be tall and after prescribed treatment emerged six feet seven, impersonated by Wyverne Shranklen.

Buster Fitzharris wanted to be a brunette instead of a blonde. We really don't know the color of Buster's hair. It's a kind of a sheik-brown, but anyway after a short treatment Buster came out of the machine as black as the ace of spades. Fitzharris danced the Charleston twice and introduced a few steps of his own, finishing with a ballet dancer's slide for the home plate.

The pictures were exceptionally good, in fact Manager Hiller received many coments on account of the selections made.

The high schol orchestra led by Miss Rickard covered itself with glory. There seemed to be a rivalry between the first violins and the horn section, but it has been smoothed out since they played at "The Last Word" and everything passed off harmoniously. We were especially interested in the violins, for Zita Miller plays in that section.

All considered, the big people had every bit as much fun at that Junior benefit as the high school boys and girls.

MONTHLY REPORT OF NURSE WORK

Nurse Supervising Committee Meets at Public Health Nurse's Office

MRS. THABES, NEW CHAIRMAN

Elected to Succeed Elmer Dahl, Who Had Recently Resigned

The monthly meeting of the Nurse Supervising committee was held December 7th at the Public Health Nurse's office. The following members were present: Mrs. J. A. Thabes, Robert Crust, George Falconer and R. Zierke. Mrs. Thabes was unanimously elected chairman of the committee succeeding Elmer Dahl. Mr. Dahl having resigned.

The subject of a speech defect clinic was discussed. It is possible to secure Mr. Holmes of the state university to conduct a clinic in Brainerd, December 22nd and 23rd, for children having a speech defect as stammering, stuttering or lisping. It was decided to bring the matter before the school board.

The following report was presented by the City and School Nurse: 225 calls were made during the month; 42 for the purpose of giving bedside care, 89 instructive calls, 9 investigations which were reported to the proper authorities, 85 business calls.

Ten children were taken to their family physicians. One tuberculosis clinic was held, five patients attending.

One class for girls was started at the Riverside school, the subject under discussion at present being personal hygiene.

Three hundred and twenty-nine children were given individual inspection, 135 of these children were found to have some physical defect, 92 have had defects cared for since the last examination. Sixty-nine children have never been vaccinated or have not had small pox. Twenty-eight treatments were given the children in the school during the month.

The last two months have been unusually free from infectious diseases, no children having been excluded from school on account of contagious diseases.

The Minnesota Public Health association purchased a scale for the Riverside school. This makes the fifth scale in the Brainerd schools.

CHRISTMAS JOY FOR THE CHILDREN

Many Organizations, Churches And Schools to Spread Cheer

BROKEN TOYS MENDED

Lions Expect to Furnish Municipal Tree, Elks Active Too

The Lions' club of Brainerd are sponsoring a project to have Boy Scouts collect and mend broken toys, games, books and other playthings to be distributed among the poor children of the city.

They will also furnish a municipal Christmas tree to be decorated by the city and on Christmas eve they will have a program at the tree and give candy to the children. Last year the club trimmed a municipal tree and distributed candy and toys to the children.

Each year, Brainerd Lodge of Elks No. 615 hold an entertainment and tree at a theatre for the kiddies.

Schools generally take up collections for Christmas baskets for the needy, and many churches, notably St. Francis Catholic church, have built up large poor relief funds to be expended during the holiday season.

A movement was on to decorate the streets with Christmas trees, but owing to pine tree conservation this may be dropped.

The American Legion auxiliary will give a Christmas party December 19 for children of trainees.

STANLEY KETCHELL UPSET DOPE OF RING

OLD ADAGE OF THE RING MAY BE UPSET

AXIOM THAT A BOXER ONCE KNOCKED OUT, WAS MARK FOR SAME OPPONENT

BERLENBACH AGAIN FACES FRENCH-CANADIAN JACK DELANEY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Dec. 11.—There is an old and respected adage of the ring—upset once by Stanley Ketchell—that a boxer once knocked out by an opponent will always be a mark for that same opponent.

In March, 1924, Paul Berlenbach, a reformed amateur wrestler, reached the end of a sensational string of knockouts when he was stopped by Jack Delaney, a French-Canadian sharp shooter from Bridgeport.

The defeat was only a temporary setback for a green fighter and the stolid German went out and won the the world's light-heavyweight championship.

Tonight in Madison Square Garden, the same Berlenbach and the same Delaney will open officially Tex Rickard's new $5,000,000 arena in a 15 round bout for the championship and Berlenbach, in spite of the established jinx, is a 7 to 5 favorite to win.

Those who study boxing favor Berlenbach because he is a vastly improved fighter in the last two years and because the punch that put Berlenbach out in his first big fight was landed by a groggy, reeling Delaney who put everything in a wild right hand punch that found its mark on an unprotected chin.

Delaney will have to win quickly if he wins because Berlenbach will have ten pounds weight on him and a half ton of punch pounds.

For the first time since he has been promoting boxing in New York, Tex Rickard had to close the ticket windows 24 hours before a fight. The new garden will seat 23,000 and only 3,000 unreserved seats, that are to be placed on sale at 5 o'clock, remain.

The receipts probably will reach $175,000 and Berlenbach's share is said to be $75,000.

New York, Dec. 11—Paul Berlenbach had a seven and a half pound weight advantage over Jack Delaney when they weighed in at the office of the state boxing commission prior to their fight tonight in the new Garden. The light-heavyweight champion's weight was 173½, and the Bridgeport challenger's 166.

New York, Dec. 11. — Station WNYC will broadcast a detailed description of tonight's light-heavyweight championship contest between Paul Berlenbach, champion, and Jack Delaney, challenger. WNYC's wave length is 526 meters, and the fight broadcasting is scheduled for 10 P. M. eastern time.

Peckinpaugh's Bobbles Cost Teammates $50,000

Baseball fans, reluctant to put the old game in moth balls until the ivory domes head for the South next spring still are discussing Roger Peckinpaugh's record-breaking performance in the world series. And as the fans always love to flock to "figgers," one of them has discovered that each time the butter-fingered Washington shortstop bobbled a ball, or threw one crooked to first or second base, he cost his teammates $6,250 in cold hard cash. Fred Snodgrass, of the Giants, once made a $30,000 muff in the last inning of the last game of a world series but Peck was far more consistent, and persistent in his misplay, and finally on eight chances built up a deficit of approximately $50,000. His last misplay in Pittsburgh, paving the way for three runs could have been written down as a $50,000 bobble, if it hadn't been for all of its predecessors.

Committee on Rules May Bar "Love" in Tennis

It's likely that they'll take this "love" stuff right out of tennis during the annual rules pow-wows this winter—and do the same thing concerning the expression "deuce" which is used in scoring.

Long, long ago when tennis first became a sport somebody—perhaps a jilted suitor—decided that his concrete idea of what love meant to him should be perpetuated. So he had 'em use the word "love" in the game of tennis. And "love" means "nothing"—or a scoreless condition.

"Love" and "deuce" fitted into tennis while it was a nice refined game indulged in mostly by the nicest of our younger set. But now that it's a he-man game—well, it looks like curtains for "love" and "deuce."

BEMIDJI-RAINBOW GAME ORDERED CANCELED THURS.

BEMIDJI HIGH CANNOT PLAY INDEPENDENT TEAMS

GAME WITH STAPLES SOUGHT FOR DECEMBER 19TH

The Rainbows received word yesterday afternoon from Coach Robbins, of the Bemidji high school team, that his team cannot play their scheduled game with the Rainbows at Brainerd on the 19th of this month, because of a state ruling forbidding games with independent teams. Two games were on the schedule, one here on Dec. 19th, and a return game at Bemidji on the 18th of January.

Manager Peterson states that negotiations are being made to have the Staples team here on the 19th, in place of Bemidji. A number of tickets have been sold for the game, and these will be honored for the Staples game, if arranged. If no game is played on that date, the money will be refunded the purchasers.

Staples Signed Up

The Rainbows have secured the Staples team to play on the 19th of this month, in place of the Bemidji high school team. The Bemidji team called the Rainbows' management yesterday noon and cancelled the games, because of a state high school ruling which forbids a high school team playing an independent team game A number of tickets have been sold for the Bemidji game. These will be honored for the Staples game. A fast game is assured all who come. Manager Peterson regrets the cancellation of the Bemidji game, and has gone to considerable inconvenience to book the Staples outfit for that date, in order not to disappoint the fans.

As the Rainbows came through in the final period of play Wednesday to nose out the Staples team by a close score, it is a foregone conclusion that all who see the game will be well satisfied with the substitution of teams.

RED GRANGE AND THE BEARS TO DETROIT TODAY

ARE IN EAGER PURSUIT OF THE ELUSIVE GATE RECEIPTS

SORREL-TOPPED LAD HAD HIS ARM HURT TWICE RECENTLY

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 11—(UP)—"Red" Grange and the Chicago Bears made away to Detroit today to continue their pursuit of gate receipts.

The sorrel-topped lad, whose previously injured arm was again hurt yesterday in the game with the Pittsburgh all-stars, was feeling much better today.

"I'll be able to play in Chicago Sunday," Grange said before leaving here today.

According to Dr. Gustaf Berg, the physician for the Pittsburgh baseball club, who had the "flying phantom" under his care at a hotel here, Grange needs a rest of about three days and nothing else.

"The boy is in good physical condition," Berg told the United Press. "There is nothing wrong with him. The stories about his being in a run-down condition are greatly exaggerated."

Six thousand persons who shivered through yesterday's contest on the coldest day of the year in Pittsburgh, saw Red Grange participate in nine plays during the 12 minutes he was in the game. During that time he accomplished this:

Carried the ball once for a three-yard gain.

Threw five forward passes, one of which was completed and one intercepted.

Received one forward pass but gained no ground.

Held the ball when Earl Britton unsuccessfully tried for a field goal.

Tackled Andy Gustafson once.

RED BUMPED AROUND CONSIDERABLY

New York, Dec. 11.—Predictions by veteran football men that Red Grange would get plenty of bumping around in the professional game were borne out yesterday when the former Illinois star had to leave the game in Pittsburgh.

Grange was never hurt seriously when he was playing with Illinois because he was protected by the interference and support of his team and by orders of his coach to save himself.

Bob Zuppke, the Illinois coach, said after Grange had distinguished himself in the game against Pennsylvania, that he would not allow him to help in interference, that he was not allowed to touch the ball unless he was actually on the offense and that he was cautioned to make tackles only when necessary.

Zuppke said it was this protection that gave Grange such vitality and endurance and found him physically fit to meet any situation when it arose.

The interference given Grange all during the 1925 season was marvelous and took most of the bumps for him.

Critics pointed out that Grange had to do it almost alone in Boston, Washington and Pittsburgh and several of them pointed out that his line either was worn out or wasn't disposed to take the bumps for glorification of the rising young millionaire.

RADIOLAS ARE SHORT CIRCUITED AT AITKIN, 29-16

GO DOWN FIRST TIME IN DEFEAT BY COMPANY B TEAM

GAME IS FAST AND FURIOUS ONE, PLAYED AT FULL SPEED

The Radiolas went down to defeat for the first time this year in a fast game at the Aitkin Armory, the Co. B team of that city winning, 29-16. The game was fast and furious, with both teams going at full speed up to the end.

Petraborg, captain and ace of the Aitkin team, was the scoring and floor star in the time in which he played. He made three baskets, and was in the center of the play all the time. He withdrew at the end of the first half. Bookoogam, center, also netted three baskets in this half. The half ended, 18-6, in the Aitkin team's favor.

With the start of the second half, a number of substitutes were used. The Radiolas played a faster game and kept going right up to the whistle. They went into the play with as much pep in the final quarter as at the start of the game. Thorkildson and Ericsson led the onslaughts, Thorkildson with three baskets and Ericsson with four. The guards, Heikkinen and Fitzsimmons, were bulwarks on defense, repeatedly breaking up plays near the basket. W. Heikkinen, who replaced Dillan at forward in the second half, proved a slippery man for the Aitkin guards, but had hard luck on a number of shots for the basket.

It was no disgrace for the Radiolas to lose this game. Going on a big floor, against a team of Aitkin's caliber, they are to be commended for holding the national guardsmen to as close a score as they did. Considering the leniency of the referee, the game was played in a snappy and clean manner, and the Radiolas were treated in a sportsmanlike way by the large crowd of fans.

A new stadium is also being constructed without the aid of the government that will seat 15,000 persons. None but Indian contributions will be received. One wealthy Indian who has made his fortune in lead and zinc contributed one month's income. It amounted to $11,000. Another wealthy Indian contributed $15,000. Bucknell will be the home attraction at Lawrence next fall opening the stadium.

NOV. REPORT OF SCHOOLS

HIGH SCHOOL ATTENDANCE 518

Manual Training Department Gains Favorable Comment

(By Supt. W. C. Cobb)

The attendance in the schools during the month of November was the highest thus far attained this year, and the percent of attendance for all schools was very close to 98 per cent. The average attendance in the schools this year, since September, has been larger than the average attendance last year, month by month, and for November was 1,982 as compared with an attendance of 1,943 for the month of November of last year. This means that our schools this year have had 44 more pupils in attendance on the average than they had last year.

In the high school the average daily attendance during the month has been 518 as compared with an average attendance of 483 for November of last year. This means that the high school has been larger by 35 pupils, based on the actual attendance, than last year. The following tabulation will indicate the number of pupils enrolled in the several schools as well as in the school system taken as a whole.

The Whittier school had the largest representation of visitors during the month, sixty-three according to the records.

During the month of November four inspectors from the State Department of Education visited the schools and one inspector from the State Fire Marshal's office inspected the high school gymnasium, at the request of the president of the board of education. The fire marshal recommended the installation of two doors leading from the gymnasium to the fire escape, and the doors have been provided. The inspector stated that with the two standard stairways on the North and South and these two additional exits to the fire escape, the exit facilities appeared to him to be ample.

Theodore Utne, one of the high school inspectors, called the attention of the board of education to the overcrowded condition in the high school and urged that some action be taken as soon as possible to provide more adequate school room facilities.

The manual training inspector spent a half day in the manual training department and expressed himself as favorably impressed with the improvement made during the last year in that department, in the addition of the lathe, the jointer, and the additional benches. He offered a number of suggestions for the further improvement of this department as soon as conditions were favorable.

A considerable number of new school desks, both pupils' and teachers' desks, have been provided for the Lincoln school during the last few weeks, where they were much needed.

It may be of interest to patrons of the schools to know what subjects are being offered in the high school at the present time and how many pupils are pursuing the several branches of study.

A class in public speaking and debating has been working under the direction of Miss Oerting and is doing excellent work. A number of public programs have already been held and more are to follow during the coming week. A small admission fee is charged at these public programs the proceeds of which are devoted to useful educational efforts.

Miss Huntley and Miss Oerting are formulating plans for a vocational guidance bureau in the high school department, in the hope of aiding high school students in the matter of finding themselves and their natural inclinations toward a future occupation. Miss Huntley has had some experience along this line in the past.

Miss Irene Foster, a recent graduate of the St. Cloud State Teachers College, with previous experience, has been employed at the Lincoln school for the room recently vacated by Miss Harriet Sager. Miss Sager has entered the State Teachers College at Mankato for advanced work.

A word of explanation and caution to parents concerning marks on the pupils' report cards, which are sent out each month for the parents signatures, may be useful at this time. Parents are advised not to draw too hasty conclusion as to the character of the pupils' work because the marks on the cards in the several studies are lower or higher than they were under some former teacher. An effort is being made in all of the schools to standardize the basis of marking so that wide differences for a given quality of work may not exist, but in spite of everything some teachers will mark studies relatively higher or relatively lower than other teachers do. It is not a safe conclusion, in case a child received marks of "A" or "B" one year and under a different teacher received marks of "B" or "C" to conclude that the work has seriously deteriorated or that the first tacher was of a superior type and the succeeding teacher incompetent. It is a much safer plan, in cases like the above, to consult the principal of the school who will be able to let the parent know concerning the pupils' work relative to the preceding semester or year. A pupil's relative mark with reference to the other pupils of his room is usually a safer guide as to the character of the work than the actual mark of "A", "B", or "C". In the case of any pupil of normal health and mentality a mark lower than "C" should call for an interview between the parent and the teacher or principal.

In the high school the principal publishes periodically the average mark attained by each of the four classes for a six-weeks period. These average marks are uniformly from 81 per cent to 85 per cent, or an equivalent of a mark of about "C." It would seem to be safe to assume that in most of the grade rooms average or satisfactory work by the average pupil would be about "C". A mark of "B" should indicate to the parents that the pupils work was above the average and that the child ranked in the upper one-half of his group. A mark of "A" should indicate that the work was very superior, relatively, and that the pupil belonged to a select group of the best in the room. Unfortunately, this is not always true, but our several schools, including the high school, are making an earnest effort to see that the marks that go to the parents are more nearly uniform in their significance.

The Brainerd schools will close for the Christmas vacation on Friday, December 18th, and will reopen on Monday, January 4th.

All of the parent-teachers organizations in Brainerd are actively functioning at the present time and their work during the year will be a real contribution to the educational work in this city. The recent entertainment by the Lincoln organization was a great success in spite of the unfavorable weather and placed the financial condition of the organization on a splendid footing.

CHAPTER XXII (Continued)

Pierce did try again; he tried manfully, but with a humiliating lack of success. He was puffing and blowing, his face was wet with perspiration, he had lost all count of time, when his companion finally announced it was time for her to be going.

"You're not very fit, are you?" said she.

Pierce colored uncomfortably. "Not very," he confessed. He was relieved when she did not ask the reason for his lack of fitness. Just why he experienced such relief he hardly knew, but suddenly he felt no great pride in himself nor in the life that had brought him to such a state of flabbiness. Nor did he care to have this girl know who or what he was. Plainly she was one of those "nice people" at whom Laure and the other denizens of the Rialto were wont to sneer with open contempt; probably that was why he had never chanced to meet her. He felt cheated because they had not met, for she was the sort of girl he had known at home, the sort who believed in things, and in whom he believed. Despite all his recently acquired wisdom, in this short hour she had made him over into a boy again, and somehow or other the experience was agreeable. Never had he seen a girl so cool, so candid, so refreshingly unconscious and unaffected as this one. She was as limpid as a pool of glacier water; her placidity, he imagined, had never been stirred, and in that fact lay much of her fascination.

With her skees slung over her shoulder, the girl strode along beside Phillips, talking freely on various topics, but with no disposition to chatter. Her mind was alert, inquisitive, and yet she had that thoughtful gravity of youth, wisdom coming to life. That Pierce had made a good impression upon her she implied at parting by voicing a sincere hope that they would meet again very soon.

"Perhaps I'll see you at the next dance," she suggested.

"Dance!" The word struck Pierce unpleasantly.

"Saturday night, at the Barracks."

"I'd love to come," he declared.

"Do. They're loads of fun. All the nice people go."

With a nod and a smile she was gone, leaving him to realize that he did not even know her name. Well, that was of no moment; Dawson was a small place, and—Saturday was not far off. He had heard about those official parties at the Barracks and he made up his mind to secure an invitation sufficiently formal to permit him to attend the very next one.

His opportunity came that night when one of the younger Mounted Police officers paused to exchange greetings with him. Lieutenant Rock was a familiar figure on the streets of Dawson and on the trails near by, a tall, upstanding Canadian with a record for unfailing good humor and relentless efficiency. He nodded at Pierce's casual reference to the coming dance at Headquarters.

"Great sport," said he. "It's about the only chance we fellows have to play."

When no invitation to share in the treat was forthcoming Pierce told of meeting a most attractive girl that afternoon, and, having obtained his hearer's interest, he described the youthful goddess of the snows with more than necessary enthusiasm. He became aware of a peculiar expression upon Rock's face.

"Yes, I know her well," the latter said, quietly. "D'you mean to say she invited you to the ball?"

"It wasn't exactly an invitation—"

"Oh! I see. Well"—Rock shook his head positively—"there's nothing doing, old man. It isn't your kind of a party. Understand?"

"I— don't understand," Pierce confessed in genuine surprise.

The officer eyed him with a cool, disconcerting directness. "We draw the lines pretty close—have to in a camp like this. No offense, I trust." With a smile and a careless wave of the hand he moved on, leaving Pierce to stare after him until he was swallowed up by the crowd in the gambling-room.

A blow in the face would not have amazed Pierce Phillips more, nor would it have more greatly angered him. So, he was ostracized! These men who treated him with such apparent good-fellowship really despised him; in their eyes he was a renegade; they considered him unfit to know their women. It was incredible!

This was the first deliberate slight the young man had ever received. His face burned, his pride withered under it; he would have bitten out his tongue rather than subject himself to such a rebuff. Who was Rock? How dared he,? Rock knew the girl, oh yes! But he refused to mention her name—as if that name would be sullied by his, Pierce's, use of it. That hurt most of all; that was the bitterest pill. Society! Caste! On the Arctic Circle! It was to laugh!

But Phillips could not laugh. He could more easily have cried, or cursed, or raved; even to pretend to laugh off such an affront was impossible. It required no more than this show of opposition to fan the embers of his flickering desire into full flame, and, now that he was forbidden to meet that flying godless, it seemed to him that he must do so at whatever cost. He'd go to that dance, he decided, in spite of Rock; he'd go unbidden; he'd force his way in if needs be.

TRADING IS ACCELERATED

New York, Dec. 11.—With fears regarding an increase in the bank rate eliminated for another week, nothing stood in the way of higher prices and vigorous operations for the rise were resumed in today's session. That the preponderance of opinion was still decidedly bullish was demonstrated by the manner in which the trading pace was accelerated when stocks started to move up again.

Buying was quick to follow indications on parts of special stocks that they were ready to go ahead with the result that transactions showed a notable increase in the volume of the preceding session and substantial advances occurred in many representative issues.

Impressive accumulation preceded in C. and O., Atlantic Coast Line, Norfolk and Western, New York Central, Atchison and other standard investment issues furnishing strong ground work for bullish operations in the market.

Heavy profit taking in the industrial list was absorbed without important recessions and the general market maintained a strong tone through the last hour.

The market closed higher.

Italy's Land Problem

Land reclamation work with which Italy has given employment to hundreds of war veterans, is beginning to approach completion. In all, 80,000 acres have been set aside for this purpose, some of the land being the gift of the king to the men who should accomplish its reclamation. More than $3,000,000 has been granted for the work. Hitherto some of the districts have been malarious and virtually uninhabitable. Although Italy has vast tracts of such lands which are not only useless but positively dangerous to health, it is still disputed whether it is economically feasible to reclaim them. In other words, it is believed by some that the produce of the reclaimed lands will not be sufficient to pay off the amounts of money expended on them.

The New Androcles

Gen. Hugh Drum, apropos of the war in the Riff, told a story in Washington the other day.

"It seems," he said, "that a young French lieutenant serving in Africa, found a lion that was laid up with a thorn in its foot, and like Androcles took the thorn out.

"Well, the lion was so grateful that it ran over the list of officers in the young lieutenant's regiment and devoured them all, so that in a few weeks the fortunate young man found himself promoted to a colonelcy."

Tourists Enrich Canada

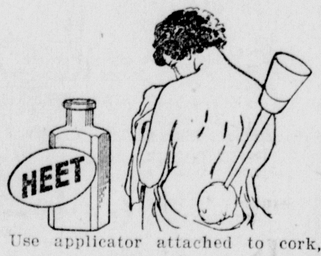

Tourists from the United States took $150,000,000 in revenue to Canada in 1925, according to estimates of Canadian government officials. This sum is equal to a quarter of the value of the Dominion's wheat crop and approximates the value of the annual mining output of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia combined. More than 2,000,000 American automobiles, it is estimated, have crossed into Canada this fall. They carried approximately 9,000,000 people, or a number equal to the total population of Canada.

Says--Now Stiff Joints Must Go!

New Discovery Limbers 'Em Up and Even the Creaking Ceases

Yes; it's true—the world progresses.

All you have to do nowadays to limber up that stiff, rusty knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of miracle working substance from a tube.

Then rub it on the offending part for about a quarter of a minute or until it soaks through the skin and disappears on its errand of mercy.

Then read the evening newspapers and go to bed.

The chances are that your misbehaving knee joint will lose its "creak" while you are dreaming about the high fences you used to leap when you were a youngster.

'A'nd in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "you'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sportiest clothes and walk briskly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are not as old as they think you are."

Joint-Ease they call this wonder working substance, for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to limber up the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint, or reduce the swelling, Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's a good name for a good, clean stainless prescription that in just a few months has proven to a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever.

But Joint-Ease is for bothersome joints, whether in knee, ankle, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale is immense.

Johnson's Pharmacy and Economy Drug Co. have a big supply of it and druggists everywhere report a big demand.

Pierce did try again; he tried manfully, but with a humiliating lack of success. He was puffing and blowing, his face was wet with perspiration, he had lost all count of time, when his companion finally announced it was time for her to be going.

"You're not very fit, are you?" said she.

Pierce colored uncomfortably. "Not very," he confessed. He was relieved when she did not ask the reason for his lack of fitness. Just why he experienced such relief he hardly knew, but suddenly he felt no great pride in himself nor in the life that had brought him to such a state of flabbiness. Nor did he care to have this girl know who or what he was. Plainly she was one of those "nice people" at whom Laure and the other denizens of the Rialto were wont to sneer with open contempt; probably that was why he had never chanced to meet her. He felt cheated because they had not met, for she was the sort of girl he had known at home, the sort who believed in things, and in whom he believed. Despite all his recently acquired wisdom, in this short hour she had made him over into a boy again, and somehow or other the experience was agreeable. Never had he seen a girl so cool, so candid, so refreshingly unconscious and unaffected as this one. She was as limpid as a pool of glacier water; her placidity, he imagined, had never been stirred, and in that fact lay much of her fascination.

With her skees slung over her shoulder, the girl strode along beside Phillips, talking freely on various topics, but with no disposition to chatter. Her mind was alert, inquisitive, and yet she had that thoughtful gravity of youth, wisdom coming to life. That Pierce had made a good impression upon her she implied at parting by voicing a sincere hope that they would meet again very soon.

"Perhaps I'll see you at the next dance," she suggested.

"Dance!" The word struck Pierce unpleasantly.

"Saturday night, at the Barracks."

"I'd love to come," he declared.

"Do. They're loads of fun. All the nice people go."

With a nod and a smile she was gone, leaving him to realize that he did not even know her name. Well, that was of no moment; Dawson was a small place, and—Saturday was not far off. He had heard about those official parties at the Barracks and he made up his mind to secure an invitation sufficiently formal to permit him to attend the very next one.

His opportunity came that night when one of the younger Mounted Police officers paused to exchange greetings with him. Lieutenant Rock was a familiar figure on the streets of Dawson and on the trails near by, a tall, upstanding Canadian with a record for unfailing good humor and relentless efficiency. He nodded at Pierce's casual reference to the coming dance at Headquarters.

"Great sport," said he. "It's about the only chance we fellows have to play."

When no invitation to share in the treat was forthcoming Pierce told of meeting a most attractive girl that afternoon, and, having obtained his hearer's interest, he described the youthful goddess of the snows with more than necessary enthusiasm. He became aware of a peculiar expression upon Rock's face.

"Yes, I know her well," the latter said, quietly. "D'you mean to say she invited you to the ball?"

"It wasn't exactly an invitation—"

"Oh! I see. Well"—Rock shook his head positively—"there's nothing doing, old man. It isn't your kind of a party. Understand?"

"I— don't understand," Pierce confessed in genuine surprise.

The officer eyed him with a cool, disconcerting directness. "We draw the lines pretty close—have to in a camp like this. No offense, I trust." With a smile and a careless wave of the hand he moved on, leaving Pierce to stare after him until he was swallowed up by the crowd in the gambling-room.

A blow in the face would not have amazed Pierce Phillips more, nor would it have more greatly angered him. So, he was ostracized! These men who treated him with such apparent good-fellowship really despised him; in their eyes he was a renegade; they considered him unfit to know their women. It was incredible!

This was the first deliberate slight the young man had ever received. His face burned, his pride withered under it; he would have bitten out his tongue rather than subject himself to such a rebuff. Who was Rock? How dared he,? Rock knew the girl, oh yes! But he refused to mention her name—as if that name would be sullied by his, Pierce's, use of it. That hurt most of all; that was the bitterest pill. Society! Caste! On the Arctic Circle! It was to laugh!

But Phillips could not laugh. He could more easily have cried, or cursed, or raved; even to pretend to laugh off such an affront was impossible. It required no more than this show of opposition to fan the embers of his flickering desire into full flame, and, now that he was forbidden to meet that flying godless, it seemed to him that he must do so at whatever cost. He'd go to that dance, he decided, in spite of Rock; he'd go unbidden; he'd force his way in if needs be.

TRADING IS ACCELERATED

New York, Dec. 11.—With fears regarding an increase in the bank rate eliminated for another week, nothing stood in the way of higher prices and vigorous operations for the rise were resumed in today's session. That the preponderance of opinion was still decidedly bullish was demonstrated by the manner in which the trading pace was accelerated when stocks started to move up again.

Buying was quick to follow indications on parts of special stocks that they were ready to go ahead with the result that transactions showed a notable increase in the volume of the preceding session and substantial advances occurred in many representative issues.

Impressive accumulation preceded in C. and O., Atlantic Coast Line, Norfolk and Western, New York Central, Atchison and other standard investment issues furnishing strong ground work for bullish operations in the market.

Heavy profit taking in the industrial list was absorbed without important recessions and the general market maintained a strong tone through the last hour.

The market closed higher.

Italy's Land Problem

Land reclamation work with which Italy has given employment to hundreds of war veterans, is beginning to approach completion. In all, 80,000 acres have been set aside for this purpose, some of the land being the gift of the king to the men who should accomplish its reclamation. More than $3,000,000 has been granted for the work. Hitherto some of the districts have been malarious and virtually uninhabitable. Although Italy has vast tracts of such lands which are not only useless but positively dangerous to health, it is still disputed whether it is economically feasible to reclaim them. In other words, it is believed by some that the produce of the reclaimed lands will not be sufficient to pay off the amounts of money expended on them.

The New Androcles

Gen. Hugh Drum, apropos of the war in the Riff, told a story in Washington the other day.

"It seems," he said, "that a young French lieutenant serving in Africa found a lion that was laid up with a thorn in its foot, and like Androcles took the thorn out.

"Well, the lion was so grateful that it ran over the list of officers in the young lieutenant's regiment and devoured them all, so that in a few weeks the fortunate young man found himself promoted to a colonelcy."

Tourists Enrich Canada

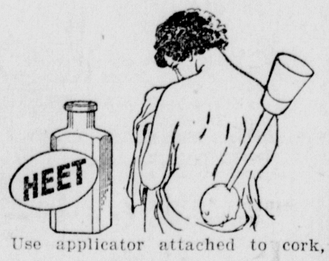

Tourists from the United States took $150,000,000 in revenue to Canada in 1925, according to estimates of Canadian government officials. This sum is equal to a quarter of the value of the Dominion's wheat crop and approximates the value of the annual mining output of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia combined. More than 2,000,000 American automobiles, it is estimated, have crossed into Canada this fall. They carried approximately 9,000,000 people, or a number equal to the total population of Canada.

Says--Now Stiff Joints Must Go!

New Discovery Limbers 'Em Up and Even the Creaking Ceases

Yes; it's true—the world progresses.

All you have to do nowadays to limber up that stiff, rusty knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of miracle working substance from a tube.

Then rub it on the offending part for about a quarter of a minute or until it soaks through the skin and disappears on its errand of mercy.

Then read the evening newspapers and go to bed.

The chances are that your misbehaving knee joint will lose its "creak" while you are dreaming about the high fences you used to leap when you were a youngster.

'A'nd in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "you'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sportiest clothes and walk briskly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are not as old as they think you are."

Joint-Ease they call this wonder working substance, for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to limber up the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint, or reduce the swelling, Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's a good name for a good, clean stainless prescription that in just a few months has proven to a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever.

But Joint-Ease is for bothersome joints, whether in knee, ankle, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale is immense.

Johnson's Pharmacy and Economy Drug Co. have a big supply of it and druggists everywhere report a big demand.

HOUSE INSURGENT BLOC OUSTED FROM POWER

REPUBLICANS BEAT COMBINED BLOC OF FACTIONS

THE INDEPENDENT REPUBLICANS STRIPPED OF IMPORTANT COMMITTEE JOBS

WISCONSIN AND NORTH DAKOTA INSURGENTS FEEL STING OF DEFEAT

Washington, Dec. 11.—(UP) — The once powerful house insurgent bloc has been ousted from its place of power. With the republican majority large enough to beat both democrats and insurgents combined, the last blow was to strip the independent republicans of all important committee jobs.

Congress Today

Senate:
Not in session.
Privileges and elections committee meets on Nye appointment.
House:
Considers tax reduction bill.

With the exception of Representatie Henry Allen Cooper, Wisconsin dean of the house, all Wisconsin insurgents and Rep. Sinclair, North Dakota, were ousted by the republican committee on committees.

A sub-committee today assigned the rebels to places on unimportant committees.

By virtue of extended service in the lower house, Rep. Oigt and Rep. Sinclair were removed from the agriculture committee and Rep. Schneider lost his place on the post office and post roads committee.

Republican leaders said the action was in harmony with the conclusion of the republican caucus last spring.

FORGETFUL SENATOR WADSWORTH SPILLED THE SENATE BEANS

Washington, Dec. 11.—(UP)—All because of a mistake the senate committee on committees got itself deadlocked over the question of admitting Sen. Robert M. La Follette, it has been revealed here.

Gradually the news is leaking out that because of the absent mindedness of Sen. James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York, the committee got into difficulties.

Sen. Wadsworth forgot that he was no longer a member of the committee, having retired at the close of the last session. He attended anyway and no one knew the difference. He cast the vote that tied the committee and brought the dispute over "Young" Bob to light.

INTERNATIONAL TRAIN FIRED ON BY CHINESE GUNS

AMERICAN AND EUROPEAN PASSENGERS WERE ENDANGERED

INCIDENT OCCURRED ENROUTE TO TIEN TSIN FROM PEKING

By RANDALL GOULD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Peking, Dec. 11.—Chinese artillery men today fired on the international train en route to Tien Tsin from Peking with American and European passengers including the widow of Former American Minister Calhoun of China and Tiffany Blake, representative of the Chicago Tribune.

There were no casualties and only one window was smashed.

The train backed up after the firing and several passengers proceeded afoot across a damaged bridge, subsequently operating automobiles with which they went through the battle lines and reached Tien Tsin. The train had not been reported as reaching Tien Tsin even 24 hours after its departure from Peking despite the fact that the stretch is only seventy miles.

Intermittent firing is reported northwest and south of Tien Tsin.

The above message was filed at Peking shortly before 11 A. M. today. Subsequently the cable companies in London announced that they had been advised from Shanghai that Peking was entirely isolated telegraphically and they believed this was due to military operations.

Tien Tsin, Dec. 11.—Railway service from Peking to Tien Tsin has been suspended. British, French, and Japanese guards are re-inforcing the railway which has been broken at several places near Tongshan.

"Public Must be Educated to Accept Dry Laws"

TREACHEROUS GULF SWALLOWED BARGE WITH 22 SAILORS

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 11.—(UP)—The treacherous Gulf today still failed to yield any trace of the missing barge Altamaha which with 22 men aboard has been adrift off the Florida coast without sail or power at the mercy of wind and current since last Sunday. An airplane, a half dozen tugs and coast guard patrol boats continued the search today, spurred by the thought that provisions must by now be running low aboard the missing barge.

2 MINNEAPOLIS MEN HELD ON CHARGE OF STEALING AUTOMOBILE

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Vernon Huber, 19, and George Berzeith, 23, both of Minneapolis, were held here today on charges of stealing an automobile. With them when arrested was John Peterson, 16, Racine, Wis., who, following his arrest, told officials he had seen his father kill his mother. Racine police were notified but said they had not record of such a crime. It was later learned the youth had escaped from a home for feeble minded last July. He was turned over to Racine police.

TERRY MORAN FACES 25 YEAR PRISON TERM

CHICAGO POLICE CHARACTER LAUGHED WAY THROUGH HIS TRIAL

CHARGED WITH COMPLICITY IN MAIL ROBBERY AT SOUTH ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Minn., Dc. 11.—(UP)—John "Terry" Moran, jovial Chicago police character who laughed his way through a trial for mail robbery, faces a 25 year sentence at Leavenworth penitentiary today.

The jury sitting in Moran's case returned its verdict last night after almost two hours' deliberation. Judge John B. Sanborn immediately passed sentence.

The robbery for which Moran was convicted of complicity occurred at South St. Paul Dec. 20, 1924. A $30,000 money shipment was snatched from the platform by three men.

Moran was arrested shortly after in Chicago. After being held in DeKalb county jail, Moran escaped while he was being taken to a hearing. He was recaptured in Denver and confessed his part in the St. Paul robbery.

SALARY DISPUTE APPEAL LOST BY STATE COMMISSION

St. Paul, Dec. 11.—(UP)—The state commission of administration and finance today lost ist appeal to the supreme court for a reversal of the lower court decision favoring the state railroad and warehouse commission in a dispute between the two bodies over salary fixing power.

The opinion of the supreme court brings an end to the fight over authority begun last July when the "Big Three" disallowed that part of the railroad and warehouse commission budget which called for salary increases for three employes.

Holding that the administration body had not classified all individual employes as required by law up to the time the budget was submitted, Judge R. D. O'Brien, Ramsey county court, ruled it had no authority over the salaries. This decision was upheld by the supreme court.

CARY GIVES NOTICE OF AN APPEAL

OBJECTS TO CONTEMPT OF COURT SENTENCE RECENTLY IMPOSED

St. Paul, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Notice of prospective filing of a petition for reargument of his appeal from the sentence imposed by Judge R. D. O'Brien for contempt of court was given today by Ernest S. Cary, Minneapolis attorney. The court recently upheld the lower court that inflicted the 30-day sentence. The offense was committed during the second trial of Ben and Abe Gleeman for murder.

ENGLAND WILL MAINTAIN HER RIGHTS AS USUAL

BRITISH COLONIAL SECRETARY MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

SITUATION REGARDING MOSUL PROBLEM IS DELICATE ONE

By HENRY WOOD
(Copyright, 1925, by United States)

Geneva, Dec. 11.—"If war is forced onto us England will maintain her rights as she has always done," declared British Colonial Secretary L. C. M. S. Amery, in an exclusive interview with the United Press today. He was discussing the delicate situation surrounding the League of Nations efforts to reach a decision as to the future control of the oil district of Mosul.

"The British government," he continued, "is not pursuing an aggressive policy, is not seeking fresh territorial responsibilities nor a war, but if war is forced as a result of responsibilities already assumed, she will fulfill her duty."

The League council late last night suspended temporarily all sessions to permit of a final effort to reach a mutually acceptable solution of the Mosul dispute.

Today the council decided to modify this decision and to resume sittings this afternoon on minor questions, deferring further discussion of Mosul as long as there was a possibility of reaching a direct amicable settlement.

Members continued to study possible courses to be taken if the Turks should attack Mosul. The hauteur which had marked the Turks' position on Thursday when Tewfik Rouschi Bey, foreign minister-delegate, planned to return to Turkey, had weakened with the opening of the Laidoner report on alleged Turkish deportations and abuse of Christians driven out of the Mosul area.

Amery himself was doubtful that a council decision in favor of Britain would be followed by Turk war. Nevertheless he indicated clearly that England would amply meet such a threat.

"Under the Sevres treaty which the Turk accepted," he observed, "Mosul was included integrally in the kingdom of Iraq.

"When the Turkish government was overthrown the new Turkish government began to claim Mosul, which constitutes one-fourth of the area of Iraq and the richest part.

"Cession of Mosul to Turkey would mean economic ruin. And the question of the district's population would be very grave. Twenty thousand Christians have fled from the portion of the district still under Turkish jurisdiction and if Mosul were ceded to Turkey, 80,000 Christians would be obliged to flee from deportations and atrocities.

"England (under her mandate) established in Iraq a democratic government which is a novelty in the Near East and this has been progressing steadily. To abandon it now would be fatal.

"If Mosul were given to the Turks it is certain that their first step would be reprisals against Christians and also an effort completely to stamp out the large Kurdish population in pursuance with their policy of several years to wipe out all racial minorities. We are ready to accept any decision of the League."

A contact between the Turks and British was achieved this afternoon, Amery meeting Tewfik Rouschi Bey and the Mosul sub-commission thereafter meeting to call separately the two delegates. A compromise solution was considered possible.

Meantime the council was drafting a special invitation to America to aid in the proposed disarmament conference work, in conformity with President Coolidge's recent message by sitting in the commission for preparation of the parley. The text will be made public after it has been delivered in Washington.

DOZENS OF ROBBERIES AND HOLDUPS REPORTED TO HEADQUARTERS

Chicago, Dec. 11.—(UP)—A pre-holiday crime wave of 12 hours' duration was climaxed early today with the killing of two men and the wounding of another.

Matthew Lusk was wounded and captured by a policeman who caught him holding up a drugstore. Lusk's companion in the robbery escaped.

Dozens of robberies and holdups were reported to headquarters between 3 P. M. yestrday and 3 A. M. today.

CROOKSTON BUSINESS MEN ROBBED OF $250

WINDOWS BROKEN IN THE REAR AND STORES WERE LOOTED

CHAIN STORE WAS ONE OF THE HEAVIEST LOSERS, REPORTED

Crookston, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Merchants in the down town business section today estimated their losses from a series of burglaries here last night at $250.

The robbers entered a number of stores all by the same method of breaking windows in the rear and looting establishments without using explosives.

A chain store was the heaviest loser, according to the reports. It was said to have missed $225 but refused by order from its headquarters either to confirm or deny the report.

Two other places lost small amounts from cash registers. Except for two watches taken from a pool hall nothing but cash was missed.

60 MINERS ARE BELIEVED LOST, ALABAMA MINE

RESCUE PARTIES WORK ALL NIGHT NEAR BIRMINGHAM

GAS EXPLOSION IN OVERTON NO. TWO MINE YESTERDAY

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 11—(UP)—Working all night, rescue parties one by one were bringing to the surface the bodies of sixty miners believed killed in the gas explosion in the Overton Number 2 mine near here yesterday.

At an early hour today the bodies of 22 of the miners suffocated by the after-damp had been recovered. Rescue workers believe that at least 38 others remain below.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 11.—With estimates of the deaths running as high as 60, fresh rescue crews went into the depths of the Overton No. 2 mine today in search of additional bodies of miners killed in a gas explosion yesterday.

All night long, workers, stimulated by cups of steaming coffee cooked at small stoves set up at the mine mouth, labored to remove some of the debris and at dawn had brought 22 bodies to the surface.

Officials of the mine believe that 38 or 39 still remain below.

Groups of sorrowing relatives of the miners remained about the scene until an early hour today and then, shaken by the bitter cold, sadly left their homes only to return in a few hours.

There was no hope that any of the miners still below the surface are alive and officials of the Alabama Fuel Company's Overton mine, said the death toll could be estimated between between 56 and 60.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined. The Overton mine is a gaseous pit and only electric lamps were used by the workmen. It was equipped with modern safety devices.

Of the 60 supposed to be dead, only about 10 are believed to be white, the rest negroes. Five were seriously injured and only 15 escaped alive. Estimates of the number in the mine at the time of the blast varies from 90 to 100.

T. C. Yarbrough, one of the miners who managed to escape alive, told of the excitement that prevailed when the explosion rocked the mine.

"There was a tremendous crash and a deafening concussion which knocked us to our knees," he said. "Eleven negros working near me were thrown into a panic. We ran into the second layer but were prevented from going further by the air fan. So we returned to the air vent and stayed there until the rescue crew came upon us."

ASSERTS GOV. SORLIE HAD NO POWER TO APPOINT SEN. NYE

Washington, Dec. 11. — (UP) — The Republican state committee of North Dakota today entered the fight against the appointment of Sen. Gerald P. Nye, insurgent, when its representative, O. B. Burtness, appeared before the senate privileges and elections committee demanding Nye be prevented from taking his seat.

Burtness asserted that Gov. Sorlie of North Dakota did not have power to fill senate vacancies by appointment under the law.

"The law passed by the North Dakota legislature gives the power to the governor to fill vacancies in state ocices inly," Burtness said. "The law was passed with intent to give the governor authority to fill the office of state's attorney and no attempt was made to include United States senators.

"If the legislature did intend to include United States senators that law would have conflicted with the 17th amendment to the United States constitution.

"We do not believe that the position of United States senator can be construed as a state office, because the federal constitution provides how senators shall be elected, the number to be elected and how they shall vote. Their salaries are paid out of the federal treasury and they take the oath of allegiance to the United States and not to the state."

Representative Voight, Republican, Wisconsin, representing Nye, presented a brief and argued that Nye should be permitted to take his seat. Voight said that the legislature had empowered the governor to fill any office temporarily.

"There never was an office that wasn't filled by appointment," Voight said. "The legislature could not have used any stronger language when it specified that state legislative officers were the only exceptions to which the governor could not appoint."

MINNEAPOLIS MAN WOUNDS WIFE AND THEN KILLS SELF

Minneapolis, Dec. 11. — (UP) — Hardy Bryant, 55, shot and seriously wounded his wife, then killed himself, at noon today. The attack and suicide took place at a hotel here. Bryant was employed by a railroad. Officials are investigating cause of the shooting.

FOREIGN AIR COMPANIES GET BASES IN AMERICA

Washington, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Plans and schedules of foreign-owned air companies which have obtained control of airways surrounding the Panama canal were detailed by Major George V. Strong, of the army general staff, at the Mitchell court martial today.

Strong declared that a French company had obtained exclusive air concessions in Guatemala and a German concern had "tied up" the best Central America to United States airway with bases in Key West, Cuba, Mexico and Colombia.

FARMER KILLED WHEN STRUCK BETWEEN EYES

BODY OF TIMOTHY SHEA, ADDISON, FOUND ALONG ROAD

CORONER'S JURY SOON TO REPORTS ITS FINDINGS

Bath, N. Y., Dec. 11. — (UP) — Pending findings of a coroner's jury as to the death of Timothy Shea, Addison farmer, District Attorney Guy W. Cheney today investigated the connection of Michael Enright eldest brother of Police Commissioner Richard Enright of New York City, with the killing.

Shea died when he was struck between the eyes with an axe. The body was found yesterday on a little travelled road near the Enright farm.

County authorities talked with Enright and said he appeared nervous. He at first declined to comment but later said that he and Shea had "had several drinks together' on Wednesday night.

Enright had stains on his clothing which the officers took to be blood. In a woodshed was found a single-bitted axe covered with blood.

So far as can be learned Enright and Shea were close personal friends and had never quarreled. Both were unmarried and about 58 years old.

Enright had charge of the farm owned by Police Commissioner Enright and usually managed by another brother, William.

STEELE COUNTY TO FORM RANGERS

Owatonna, Minn., Dec. 11.—(UP)—First active steps toward organization of a Steele county company of the Minnesota rangers were taken today following a meeting of the organization committee of the County Bankers' association. The meeting authorized immediate listing of men to be deputized by Sheriff Joseph Fisher to serve as members of the protective organization.

DENIES TRACES OF POISON FOUND

POLICE OF KANSAS CITY CONTINUE INVESTIGATION OF MRS. HIGHTOWER'S DEATH

Kansas City, Dec. 11.—(UP) — Despite the denial of Dr. Charles Nelson, deputy coroner, that traces of poison were found in the stomach of Mrs. Opal M. Hightower who died Wednesday, police today continued their investigation into the woman's death. Ernest Hightower, the woman's husband, was being held in jail as was Mrs. Nellie Wassweiler, the "other woman" in the case.

Mrs. Wassweiler admitted that she and Hightower had lived together as common law man and wife. She also said she had visited the Hightowers a few days before Mrs. Hightower's death.

Dr. Nelson said the woman's death was caused by peritonitis rather than by bichloride of mercury poisoning. Hightower had told police his wife took mercury tablets by mistake.

REVEREND STELZLE MAKES STATEMENT AT CHURCH COUNCIL

SAYS PROHIBITION SITUATION IS CRITICAL AND VERY UNSATISFACTORY

"EXCEPT TO THE BOOTLEGGERS," SAYS REVEREND STELZLE

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 11.—(UP)—Prohibition cannot be effective until such time as the people are "educated to acceptance of the dry laws," Rev. Dr. Charles Stelzle, of New York, declared at the meeting of the executive committee of the federal council of churches in session here today.

The prohibition situation is critical, and very unsatisfactory, except to the bootleggers, the minister declared.

"Unfortunately prohibition in the minds of many of its advocates is purely a moral issue, and it is assumed that those who are opposing it are necessarily immoral," Dr. Stelzle said.

"There can be no question regarding the attitude of the great mass of working men throughout the United States toward prohibition. There has been a growing feeling of resentment against what is presumed to be sumptuary legislation, which not only has denied them what they believe is their natural rights, but which has had practically no effect upon the rich of the country, who may secure as much liquor of every kind as they desire."

Plans for a series of conferences on community organization under the joint auspices of the council's special service commission and the University of Florida were announced today, as were arrangements for industrial conferences in Chicago, Milwaukee, Appleton, Wis., and Buffalo.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 11.—The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, through its executive committee today unanimously adopted a resolution placing the council squarely behind a proposal for a national education campaign in the interest of prohibition.

Without officially undertaking the campaign itself, the council indicated by its action unanimous support of any movement toward that end.

MOVE TO CURB POWERS OF THE PARDON BOARD

CHICAGO BOARD RELEASED A CONFESSED MURDERER

WAS MILLIONAIRE'S SON, FEAR SAME ACTION FOR LEOPOLD AND LOEB

Chicago, Dec. 11—(UP)—Fearing that the release of Ira D. Perry, Jr., millionaire's son, who was sentenced to life in prison for a confessed murder, might pave the way to similar action in the case of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, Chicago officials and lawyers today started a move to curb the powers of the state board of pardons and paroles.

Perry, released without the knowledge of Chicago law officers, served approximately three years of his life term. He has fled the state, George E. Gorman, assistant state's attorney, declared.

Enraged by the release, Gorman and other law enforcement officials are searching for Perry to push several other charges against him.

A newly discovered legislative act empowers the board of pardons and paroles to diminish the punishment fixed by judge and jury.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, who prosecuted the Perry case and the famous Leopold and Loeb murder case, Charles R. Holden, head of the Chicago crime commission, Russell Whitman, president of the Chicago Bar Association, judge, and others plan to have the law repealed.

Several days ago it became known that Perry had been freed. At the offices of the parole board it was declared mitigating circumstances had been found with the consequent favorable action on the appeal for diminishing of punishment.

Perry is believed hiding in Iowa.

ANNEXATION PETITION GRANTED

County Commissioners Approve Plea of Crosby-Ironton Made

AFFECTS SCHOOL DISTRICT 51

Annexes Parts of Sections 6 And 7 in the Deerwood District

The board of county commissioners held their regular meeting at the court house last Saturday. A large delegation of Deerwood citizens attended the hearing in opposition to the proposed annexation of a portion of the Deerwood district to Crosby-Ironton. The officers of school district No. 51 petitioned the board to have the south half of section 6 and that part of section 7 north of Serpent Lake set off from district No. 7 which is the Deerwood district and added to district No. 51 or the Crosby-Ironton district. The petition was granted by the commissioners.

The commissioners made an appropriation of $50 to the Minnesota Dairymen's association to go into prize fund, distribution of prizes to be made at their convention which will be held in Brainerd next month.

Morrison county commissioners met with the board and ironed out the difficulties in constructing the judicial road between the two counties. It was decided to improve this road to the extent of $3,000 next year.

An appropriation of $100 was made by the board to the Highways Green association to be used for publicity and advertising towards creating public sentiment along these lines.

The county engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for a bridge across Daggett Brook in Section 26 Town of Allen on White Line road No. 7.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

COMMUNITY NEWS HAS FIRST PLACE

IN the ordinary country daily, home news holds first place and then comes world news. This was demonstrated when our friend, D. D. Meredith, northwest manager of the United Press Association, held a "news service" round table at the Faribault weekly Rotary luncheon.

As reported in the Faribault Daily News, other interesting things were brought out in the discussion. Sport news held third place. Agricultural and educational news tied for fourth place in the preference of the Rotarians, and editorials followed. Taxation, amusements and entertainment ,features and comics, political news, the weather and markets followed.

Reading advertisements apparently is of daily interest with Faribault Rotarians and one man said he read the advertisements before he read anything else in the paper. Local agricultural news stood out as the leader in interest in a copy of the paper distributed at the tables.

Mr. Meredith told briefly of the organization of the United Press Association and some of its methods in producing and distributing world news. He gave the newspaperman's viewpoint of what news interests the most readers and pointed to the fact that the modern newspaper is the servant of its community. He urged Rotarians to take advantage of the fact that the local newspaper is the community's greatest single assets for the advancement of community interests.

However, a perusal of the front page of the Faribault Daily News of November 30 shows that the complete service of the United Press is not carried. THE BRAINERD DISPATCH gets the United Press full leased wire service by printer-telegraph, starting at 7 a. m. and running continuously to 3 p. m. The Faribault front page (a seven column paper with 20 inch columns) gave news in this proportion: United Press 45 inches ,Brisbane editorial 17 inches, home news 78 inches. THE DISPATCH, as a rule, features United Press on the front page and home news on the rest of the seven pages of its edition, also carrying over many U. P. stories from the front page.

It would be interesting to have Mr. Meredith conduct his round table discussion at the local Rotary club and get the preferences of the forty or more professional and business men. It is hoped that some time in the future when Mr. Meredith makes one of his periodic calls in this vicinity, that he choose a Tuesday to be here and hobnob with the Rotarians.

REMEMBER THE LIBRARY

ONE of the best institutions in Brainerd is our public library. Working with a modest appropriation, it has accomplished wonders. Extensions in departments have been made and the juvenile department especially is growing so rapidly that more books and room are required.

Money derived from taxation does not meet the needs of the library. We suggest to people who may wish to do good in this community that the donation of books and money will serve a fine purpose by being given the library.

The library board is most appreciative and grateful when such public spirit is shown. THE DISPATCH suggests to people making their wills, for instance, that real public spirit can be shown if a bequest is made in favor of the library.

If you cannot give anything individually, then bring up the matter of a donation at your lodge or club. The Northeast Brainerd Improvement League gave $5 the other day. The United Commercial Travelers meet this Saturday and an effort will be made to have $5 donated too.

Scores of children are being attracted to the library and the continued and growing success of this department is assured. When you give anything to the library, you are helping build up a real institution for good, for character moulding, for constructive citizenship.

We never knew before how carefully library affairs are administered, how every dollar is made to do full 100 per cent duty, how every purchase is scanned, how every improvement is considered, until we heard the president of the library board, Mrs. Rasch, speak the other evening. Let us all help where we can.

TRUNK HIGHWAYS IN GOOD SHAPE

Minnesota trunk highways, the 7,000-mile system of 'Babcock roads,' are open to travel except on a few routes in the southeastern section of the state, as reported today in a bulletin from the state highway department. Trunk routes are rated fair to good over the big mileage, in spite of a general snow fall, more than a foot deep in several sections.

Hard, wind-packed drifts, four feet and more deep, made snow removal difficult in the southeastern part of the state and powerful plows made slow progress.

Good, fair and passable ratings, however, are continued on all except snow-blocked routes and the bulletin of conditions today follows, insofar as it refers to Brainerd Lake Region:

T. H. No. 2—Duluth, Brainerd, Wadena, Detroit and Moorhead—264 miles—Duluth, good—Staples, fair—Wadena, good—Moorhead.

T. H. No. 18—Elk River, Milaca, Garrison and Brainerd—102 miles—All good.

T. H. No. 19—Brainerd, Walker and Cass Lake—97 miles—All good.

T. H. No. 27—St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd—66 miles—St. Cloud—paved—Belle Prairie, good 25 mile detour—Brainerd.

Three Men Questioned on Sears and Latimer Deaths

Chicago, Dec. 11.—(UP)—Three men were arrested in connection with the murders of James Sears and Madeline Latimer, killed along a lonely road near Kenosha, Wis., and were taken to Kenosha today to be questioned further.

The men were returned in charge of Deputy Sheriff R. A. Williams and Dist. Atty. Louis Powell, both of Kenosha, after they had undergone a quizzing by Chicago police.

The three were: Frank Wilson, George Novak and Heyworth Palmer. Palmer is the owner of a roadhouse eight miles from Kenosha.

Police said Wilson and Novak admitted two burglaries in Kenosha two months ago. One was the robbery of the Zabel-Martin warehouse Oct. 15. This was about the time Sears and Miss Latimer were slain.

The trio was taken into custody after Palmer's ownership of an automobile, resembling one which had been sought in connection with the murders, came to the attention of authorities. Palmer said he had purchased it from Wilson and Novak and they also were taken into custody.

During a long examination by Lieut. John Ford of the Chicago detective bureau, Wilson and Novak persistently denied knowledge of the murders.

Too Much for Sheriff

A zealous peace officer at Normangee, Texas, intrusted with the collection of a judgment of $100 against the Southern Pacific lines, halted a train, and with a log chain and a lock anchored the engine to a siding. Then the officials demanded that the sheriff remove the attached property from the railway right-of-way. However much he wished to comply with the request, there were fundamental difficulties in the way, and the sheriff had to admit defeat.—Indianapolis News.

Wants Municipal Skating Rink

Brainerd, Minn.
Dec. 11, 1925.

The Brainerd Daily Dispatch.
Gentlemen:-

I am very much interested in the proposition of having a municipal skating rink. Ice skating is a good, clean, healthy outdoor sport. Brainerd being one of Minnesota's health spots should advocate healthy out of door sports and amusements and support same. Brainerd can afford a municipal skating rink. Anyone of us would hesitate to tell any other town that we can not afford one. Really, we can not afford to be without one. If not a free rink, why not charge a small fee. Surely this would go a long way in maintaining a rink and furthermore there are more anxious skaters awaiting the outcome of the proposed rink than some people are aware of.

Here's hoping we get a square deal and we'll do our bit in patronizing the rink.

Rex Beach's Glowing Romance of the Klondike Gold Rush Days

The raging current of Rink Rapids had thrown their frail craft against the jagged rocks, where she had splintered like an egg shell. "Everyone drown," muttered Doret, the woodsman. But no, he saw a slender girl clinging to a board. Boldly he breasted the raging river and after a terrific struggle dragged her, half drowned, to the shore. "Dis is Hell for sure," he muttered as he bent close to her face to see if she still breathed.

CROWDS TO SEE JUNIOR BENEFIT

Families Separated, Wives Lose Husbands in Crush at Park Last Night to See Juniors

SEVERAL MISSED THE SHOW

Vodvil Took House by Storm And Sorry Mr. Finkelstein And Mr. Ruben Weren't There

Was the Junior benefit show a success last night? Ask a thousand men, women and children today and they'll say in one grand chorus: "Best show we ever saw."

Some "vodvil" was put on that was a real winner. In fact, it was so good that some patrons said that if Mr. Finkelstein and Mr. Ruben had been in the audience they would sign up some for one of their circuits.

And the crowds! At 7:10 the first show was packed and crowds hung around the outside waiting to get in. Some never got in. M. E. Morrison, treasurer of the school board, made two attempts in the crowd and couldn't even get his foot in the front door.

In the crush at the front gate at the time of the second show, whole families got separated in the seething maelstrom of humanity. Mrs. C. W. Milkes lost her husband but found him later in the show. A family from Pillager got so separated that at last reports all the kids have not yet been located.

Dolly Quinlin and Lena Gravelle are the polite and accomodating ushers of the Park, but when the crowd seethed in they were swept aside like flakes of foam in a spring freshet.

We have heard nothing but "vodvil" for weeks, for the writer lives across the street from Zita Miller, and Zita plays in the orchestra and sold us two tickets.

John Fisher and Raymond Anderson appeared as the magicians and put up a wonderful line of talk and then introduced their magic machine to the audience. Its outside mechanism consisted of a Ford pump and an indicator which registered up to 200 above zero. A treatment in the machine would give the occupant a realization of any wish he wanted to come true. The machine worked true to form and never bucked once.

Helen Paine was first up with a wish when the magicians asked for recruits. Helen sounded a wish to talk English and after machine treatment gave two recitations. Helen is always good. We heard her at the Lincoln carnival and she sure can register emotion in an elocutionary way. She told about Paul Revere's ride and that he ought to be credited with one thing. Paul started his wild ride without making any introductory speech.

Dorothy Shepherd said she wanted to shed her flapper regalia and be an old-fashioned girl and after severe pumping by the two professors of magic, the machine door was opened and Dorothy had her wish granted.

Four couples sang songs of long ago and were charmingly attired in old fashioned costumes. They were Messrs. Bun Mraz, Russell Putz, Rudolph Molstad and Calvin Orth and the beautiful ladies were Marian Liners, Dorothy Deering, Dana Peterson and Dorothy Shepherd.

Frank Fruth is a short boy and wanted to be tall and after prescribed treatment emerged six feet seven, impersonated by Wyverne Shranklen.

Buster Fitzharris wanted to be a brunette instead of a blonde. We really don't know the color of Buster's hair. It's a kind of a sheik-brown, but anyway after a short treatment Buster came out of the machine as black as the ace of spades. Fitzharris danced the Charleston twice and introduced a few steps of his own, finishing with a ballet dancer's slide for the home plate.

The pictures were exceptionally good, in fact Manager Hiller received many coments on account of the selections made.

The high schol orchestra led by Miss Rickard covered itself with glory. There seemed to be a rivalry between the first violins and the horn section, but it has been smoothed out since they played at "The Last Word" and everything passed off harmoniously. We were especially interested in the violins, for Zita Miller plays in that section.

All considered, the big people had every bit as much fun at that Junior benefit as the high school boys and girls.

MONTHLY REPORT OF NURSE WORK

Nurse Supervising Committee Meets at Public Health Nurse's Office

MRS. THABES, NEW CHAIRMAN

Elected to Succeed Elmer Dahl, Who Had Recently Resigned

The monthly meeting of the Nurse Supervising committee was held December 7th at the Public Health Nurse's office. The following members were present: Mrs. J. A. Thabes, Robert Crust, George Falconer and R. Zierke. Mrs. Thabes was unanimously elected chairman of the committee succeeding Elmer Dahl. Mr. Dahl having resigned.

The subject of a speech defect clinic was discussed. It is possible to secure Mr. Holmes of the state university to conduct a clinic in Brainerd, December 22nd and 23rd, for children having a speech defect as stammering, stuttering or lisping. It was decided to bring the matter before the school board.

The following report was presented by the City and School Nurse: 225 calls were made during the month; 43 for the purpose of giving bedside care, 89 instructive calls, 9 investigations which were reported to the proper authorities, 85 business calls.

Ten children were taken to their family physicians. One tuberculosis clinic was held, five patients attending.

One class for girls was started at the Riverside school, the subject under discussion at present being personal hygiene.

Three hundred and twenty-nine children were given individual inspection, 135 of these children were found to have some physical defect, 92 have had defects cared for since the last" examination. Sixty-nine children have never been vaccinated or have not had small pox. Twenty-eight treatments were given the children in the school during the month.

The last two months have been unusually free from infectious diseases, no children having been excluded from school on account of contagious diseases.

The Minnesota Public Health association purchased a scale for the Riverside school. This makes the fifth scale in the Brainerd schools.

CHRISTMAS JOY FOR THE CHILDREN

Many Organizations, Churches And Schools to Spread Cheer

BROKEN TOYS MENDED

Lions Expect to Furnish Municipal Tree, Elks Active Too

The Lions' club of Brainerd are sponsoring a project to have Boy Scouts collect and mend broken toys, games, books and other playthings to be distributed among the poor children of the city.

They will also furnish a municipal Christmas tree to be decorated by the city and on Christmas eve they will have a program at the tree and give candy to the children. Last year the club trimmed a municipal tree and distributed candy and toys to the children.

Each year, Brainerd Lodge of Elks No. 615 hold an entertainment and tree at a theatre for the kiddies.

Schools generally take up collections for Christmas baskets for the needy, and many churches, notably St. Francis Catholic church, have built up large poor relief funds to be expended during the holiday season.

A movement was on to decorate the streets with Christmas trees, but owing to pine tree conservation this may be dropped.

The American Legion auxiliary will give a Christmas party December 19 for children of trainees.

Trappers Waste Much

Twenty per cent of the annual catch of fur-bearing animals is lost yearly on account of trapping too early or too late or failure to take care of skins properly.

Insects War on Insects

Every insect has its natural enemy, and the dragon fly and bat do their best to keep down the mosquito supply.

STANLEY KETCHELL UPSET DOPE OF RING

OLD ADAGE OF THE RING MAY BE UPSET

AXIOM THAT A BOXER ONCE KNOCKED OUT, WAS MARK FOR SAME OPPONENT

BERLENBACH AGAIN FACES FRENCH-CANADIAN JACK DELANEY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Dec. 11.—There is an old and respected adage of the ring—upset once by Stanley Ketchell—that a boxer once knocked out by an opponent will always be a mark for that same opponent.

In March, 1924, Paul Berlenbach, a reformed amateur wrestler, reached the end of a sensational string of knockouts when he was stopped by Jack Delaney, a French-Canadian sharp shooter from Bridgeport.

The defeat was only a temporary setback for a green fighter and the stolid German went out and won the the world's light-heavyweight championship.

Tonight in Madison Square Garden, the same Berlenbach and the same Delaney will open officially Tex Rickard's new $5,000,000 arena in a 15 round bout for the championship and Berlenbach, in spite of the established jinx, is a 7 to 5 favorite to win.

Those who study boxing favor Berlenbach because he is a vastly improved fighter in the last two years and because the punch that put Berlenbach out in his first big fight was landed by a groggy, reeling Delaney who put everything in a wild right hand punch that found its mark on an unprotected chin.

Delaney will have to win quickly if he wins because Berlenbach will have ten pounds weight on him and a half ton of punch pounds.

For the first time since he has been promoting boxing in New York, Tex Rickard had to close the ticket windows 24 hours before a fight. The new garden will seat 23,000 and only 3,000 unreserved seats, that are to be placed on sale at 5 o'clock, remain.

The receipts probably will reach $175,000 and Berlenbach's share is said to be $75,000.

New York, Dec. 11—Paul Berlenbach had a seven and a half pound weight advantage over Jack Delaney when they weighed in at the office of the state boxing commission prior to their fight tonight in the new Garden. The light-heavyweight champion's weight was 173½, and the Bridgeport challenger's 166.

New York, Dec. 11. — Station WNYC will broadcast a detailed description of tonight's light-heavyweight championship contest between Paul Berlenbach, champion, and Jack Delaney, challenger, WNYC's wave length is 526 meters, and the fight broadcasting is scheduled for 10 P. M. eastern time.

Peckinpaugh's Bobbles Cost Teammates $50,000

Baseball fans, reluctant to put the old game in moth balls until the ivory domes head for the South next spring still are discussing Roger Peckinpaugh's record-breaking performance in the world series. And as the fans always love to flock to "figgers," one of them has discovered that each time the butter-fingered Washington shortstop bobbled a ball, or threw one crooked to first or second base, he cost his teammates $6,250 in cold hard cash. Fred Snodgrass, of the Giants, once made a $30,000 muff in the last inning of the last game of a world series but Peck was far more consistent, and persistent in his misplay, and finally on eight chances built up a deficit of approximately $50,000. His last misplay in Pittsburgh, paving the way for three runs could have been written down as a $50,000 bobble, if it hadn't been for all of its predecessors.

Committee on Rules May Bar "Love" in Tennis

It's likely that they'll take this "love" stuff right out of tennis during the annual rules pow-wows this winter—and do the same thing concerning the expression "deuce" which is used in scoring.

Long, long ago when tennis first became a sport somebody—perhaps a jilted suitor—decided that his concrete idea of what love meant to him should be perpetuated. So he had 'em use the word "love" in the game of tennis. And "love" means "nothing"—or a scoreless condition.

"Love" and "deuce" fitted into tennis while it was a nice refined game indulged in mostly by the nicest of our younger set. But now that it's a he-man game—well, it looks like curtains for "love" and "deuce."

BEMIDJI-RAINBOW GAME ORDERED CANCELED THURS.

BEMIDJI HIGH CANNOT PLAY INDEPENDENT TEAMS

GAME WITH STAPLES SOUGHT FOR DECEMBER 19TH

The Rainbows received word yesterday afternoon from Coach Robbins, of the Bemidji high school team, that his team cannot play their scheduled game with the Rainbows at Brainerd on the 19th of this month, because of a state ruling forbidding games with independent teams. Two games were on the schedule, one here on Dec. 19th, and a return game at Bemidji on the 18th of January.

Manager Peterson states that negotiations are being made to have the Staples team here on the 19th, in place of Bemidji. A number of tickets have been sold for the game, and these will be honored for the Staples game, if arranged. If no game is played on that date, the money will be refunded the purchasers.

Staples Signed Up

The Rainbows have secured the Staples team to play on the 19th of this month, in place of the Bemidji high school team. The Bemidji team called the Rainbows' management yesterday noon and cancelled the games, because of a state high school ruling which forbids a high school team playing an independent team game A number of tickets have been sold for the Bemidji game. These will be honored for the Staples game. A fast game is assured all who come. Manager Peterson regrets the cancellation of the Bemidji game, and has gone to considerable inconvenience to book the Staples outfit for that date, in order not to disappoint the fans.

As the Rainbows came through in the final period of play Wednesday to nose out the Staples team by a close score, it is a foregone conclusion that all who see the game will be well satisfied with the substitution of teams.

RED GRANGE AND THE BEARS TO DETROIT TODAY

ARE IN EAGER PURSUIT OF THE ELUSIVE GATE RECEIPTS

SORREL-TOPPED LAD HAD HIS ARM HURT TWICE RECENTLY

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 11—(UP)—"Red" Grange and the Chicago Bears made away to Detroit today to continue their pursuit of gate receipts.

The sorrel-topped lad, whose previously injured arm was again hurt yesterday in the game with the Pittsburgh all-stars, was feeling much better today.

"I'll be able to play in Chicago Sunday," Grange said before leaving here today.

According to Dr. Gustaf Berg, the physician for the Pittsburgh baseball club, who had the "flying phantom" under his care at a hotel here, Grange needs a rest of about three days and nothing else.

"The boy is in good physical condition," Berg told the United Press. "There is nothing wrong with him. The stories about his being in a run-down condition are greatly exaggerated."

Six thousand persons who shivered through yesterday's contest on the coldest day of the year in Pittsburgh, saw Red Grange participate in nine plays during the 12 minutes he was in the game. During that time he accomplished this:

Carried the ball once for a three-yard gain.

Threw five forward passes, one of which was completed and one intercepted.

Received one forward pass but gained no ground.

Held the ball when Earl Britton unsuccessfully tried for a field goal.

Tackled Andy Gustafson once.

RED BUMPED AROUND CONSIDERABLY

New York, Dec. 11.—Predictions by veteran football men that Red Grange would get plenty of bumping around in the professional game were borne out yesterday when the former Illinois star had to leave the game in Pittsburgh.

Grange was never hurt seriously when he was playing with Illinois because he was protected by the interference and support of his team and by orders of his coach to save himself.

Bob Zuppke, the Illinois coach, said after Grange had distinguished himself in the game against Pennsylvania, that he would not allow him to help in interference, that he was not allowed to touch the ball unless he was actually on the offense and that he was cautioned to make tackles only when necessary.

Zuppke said it was this protection that gave Grange such vitality and endurance and found him physically fit to meet any situation when it arose.

The interference given Grange all during the 1925 season was marvelous and took most of the bumps for him.

Critics pointed out that Grange had to do it almost alone in Boston, Washington and Pittsburgh and several of them pointed out that his line either was worn out or wasn't disposed to take the bumps for glorification of the rising young millionaire.

RADIOLAS ARE SHORT CIRCUITED AT AITKIN, 29-16

GO DOWN FIRST TIME IN DEFEAT BY COMPANY B TEAM

GAME IS FAST AND FURIOUS ONE, PLAYED AT FULL SPEED

The Radiolas went down to defeat for the first time this year in a fast game at the Aitkin Armory, the Co. B team of that city winning, 29-16. The game was fast and furious, with both teams going at full speed up to the end.

Petraborg, captain and ace of the Aitkin team, was the scoring and floor star in the time in which he played. He made three baskets, and was in the center of the play all the time. He withdrew at the end of the first half. Bookoogam, center, also netted three baskets in this half. The half ended, 18-6, in the Aitkin team's favor.

With the start of the second half, a number of substitutes were used. The Radiolas played a faster game and kept going right up to the whistle. They went into the play with as much pep in the final quarter as at the start of the game. Thorkildson and Ericsson led the onslaughts, Thorkildson with three baskets and Ericsson with four. The guards, Heikkinen and Fitzsimmons, were bulwarks on defense, repeatedly breaking up plays near the basket. W. Heikkinen, who replaced Dillan at forward in the second half, proved a slippery man for the Aitkin guards, but had hard luck on a number of shots for the basket.

It was no disgrace for the Radiolas to lose this game. Going on a big floor, against a team of Aitkin's caliber, they are to be commended for holding the national guardsmen to as close a score as they did. Considering the leniency of the referee, the game was played in a snappy and clean manner, and the Radiolas were treated in a sportsmanlike way by the large crowd of fans.

The attendance in the schools during the month of November was the highest thus far attained this year, and the percent of attendance for all schools was very close to 98 per cent. The average attendance in the schools this year, since September, has been larger than the average attendance last year, month by month, and for November was 1,982 as compared with an attendance of 1,943 for the month of November of last year. This means that our schools this year have had 44 more pupils in attendance on the average than they had last year.

In the high school the average daily attendance during the month has been 518 as compared with an average attendance of 483 for November of last year. This means that the high school has been larger by 35 pupils, based on the actual attendance, than last year. The Whittier school had the largest representation of visitors during the month, sixty-three according to the records.

During the month of November four inspectors from the State Department of Education visited the schools and one inspector from the State Fire Marshal's office inspected the high school gymnasium, at the request of the president of the board of education. The fire marshal recommended the installation of two doors leading from the gymnasium to the fire escape, and the doors have been provided. The inspector stated that with the two standard stairways on the North and South and these two additional exits to the fire escape, the exit facilities appeared to him to be ample.

Theodore Utne, one of the high school inspectors, called the attention of the board of education to the overcrowded condition in the high school and urged that some action be taken as soon as possible to provide more adequate school room facilities.

The manual training inspector spent a half day in the manual training department and expressed himself as favorably impressed with the improvement made during the last year in that department, in the addition of the lathe, the jointer, and the additional benches. He offered a number of suggestions for the further improvement of this department as soon as conditions were favorable.

A considerable number of new school desks, both pupils' and teachers' desks, have been provided for the Lincoln school during the last few weeks, where they were much needed.

It may be of interest to patrons of the schools to know what subjects are being offered in the high school at the present time and how many pupils are pursuing the several branches of study.

A number of public programs have already been held and more are to follow during the coming week. A small admission fee is charged at these public programs the proceeds of which are devoted to useful educational efforts.

Miss Huntley and Miss Qerting are formulating plans for a vocational guidance bureau in the high school department, in the hope of aiding high school students in the matter of finding themselves and their natural inclinations toward a future occupation. Miss Huntley has had some experience along this line in the past.

Miss Irene Foster, a recent graduate of the St. Cloud State Teachers College, with previous experience, has been employed at the Lincoln school for the room recently vacated by Miss Harriet Sager. Miss Sager has entered the State Teachers College at Mankato for advanced work.

A word of explanation and caution to parents concerning marks on the pupils' report cards, which are sent out each month for the parents signatures, may be useful at this time. Parents are advised not to draw too hasty conclusion as to the character of the pupils' work because the marks on the cards in the several studies are lower or higher than they were under some former teacher. An effort is being made in all of the schools to standardize the basis of marking so that wide differences for a given quality of work may not exist, but in spite of everything some teachers will mark studies relatively higher or relatively lower than other teachers do. It is not a safe conclusion, in case a child received marks of "A" or "B" one year and under a different teacher received marks of "B" or "C" to conclude that the work has seriously deteriorated or that the first tacher was of a superior type and the succeeding teacher incompetent. It is a much safer plan, in cases like the above, to consult the principal of the school who will be able to let the parent know concerning the pupils' work relative to the preceding semester or year. A pupil's relative mark with reference to the other pupils of his room is usually a safer guide as to the character of the work than the actual mark of "A", "B", or "C". In the case of any pupil of normal health and mentality a mark lower than "C" should call for an interview between the parent and the teacher or principal.

In the high school the principal publishes periodically the average mark attained by each of the four classes for a six-weeks period. These average marks are uniformly from 81 per cent to 85 per cent, or an equivalent of a mark of about "C." It would seem to be safe to assume that in most of the grade rooms average or satisfactory work by the average pupil would be about "C". A mark of "B" should indicate to the parents that the pupils work was above the average and that the child ranked in the upper one-half of his group. A mark of "A" should indicate that the work was very superior, relatively, and that the pupil belonged to a select group of the best in the room. Unfortunately, this is not always true, but our several schools, including the high school, are making an earnest effort to see that the marks that go to the parents are more nearly uniform in their significance.

The Brainerd schools will close for the Christmas vacation on Friday, December 18th, and will reopen on Monday, January 4th.

All of the parent-teachers organizations in Brainerd are actively functioning at the present time and their work during the year will be a real contribution to the educational work in this city. The recent entertainment by the Lincoln organization was a great success in spite of the unfavorable weather and placed the financial condition of the organization on a splendid footing.

WINDS of CHANCE by Rex Beach

Pierce did try again; he tried manfully, but with a humiliating lack of success. He was puffing and blowing, his face was wet with perspiration, he had lost all count of time, when his companion finally announced it was time for her to be going.

"You're not very fit, are you?" said she.

Pierce colored uncomfortably. "Not very," he confessed. He was relieved when she did not ask the reason for his lack of fitness. Just why he experienced such relief he hardly knew, but suddenly he felt no great pride in himself nor in the life that had brought him to such a state of flabbiness. Nor did he care to have this girl know who or what he was. Plainly she was one of those "nice people" at whom Laure and the other denizens of the Rialto were wont to sneer with open contempt; probably that was why he had never chanced to meet her. He felt cheated because they had not met, for she was the sort of girl he had known at home, the sort who believed in things, and in whom he believed. Despite all his recently acquired wisdom, in this short hour she had made him over into a boy again, and somehow or other the experience was agreeable. Never had he seen a girl so cool, so candid, so refreshingly unconscious and unaffected as this one. She was as limpid as a pool of glacier water; her placidity, he imagined, had never been stirred, and in that fact lay much of her fascination.

With her skees slung over her shoulder, the girl strode along beside Phillips, talking freely on various topics, but with no disposition to chatter. Her mind was alert, inquisitive, and yet she had that thoughtful gravity of youth, wisdom coming to life. That Pierce had made a good impression upon her she implied at parting by voicing a sincere hope that they would meet again very soon.

"Perhaps I'll see you at the next dance," she suggested.

"Dance!" The word struck Pierce unpleasantly.

"Saturday night, at the Barracks."

"I'd love to come," he declared.

"Do. They're loads of fun. All the nice people go."

With a nod and a smile she was gone, leaving him to realize that he did not even know her name. Well, that was of no moment; Dawson was a small place, and—Saturday was not far off. He had heard about those official parties at the Barracks and he made up his mind to secure an invitation sufficiently formal to permit him to attend the very next one.

His opportunity came that night when one of the younger Mounted Police officers paused to exchange greetings with him. Lieutenant Rock was a familiar figure on the streets of Dawson and on the trails near by, a tall, upstanding Canadian with a record for unfailing good humor and relentless efficiency. He nodded at Pierce's casual reference to the coming dance at Headquarters.

"Great sport," said he. "It's about the only chance we fellows have to play."

When no invitation to share in the treat was forthcoming Pierce told of meeting a most attractive girl that afternoon, and, having obtained his hearer's interest, he described the youthful goddess of the snows with more than necessary enthusiasm. He became aware of a peculiar expression upon Rock's face.

"Yes, I know her well," the latter said, quietly. "D'you mean to say she invited you to the ball?"

"It wasn't exactly an invitation—"

"Oh! I see. Well"—Rock shook his head positively—"there's nothing doing, old man. It isn't your kind of a party. Understand?"

"I— don't understand," Pierce confessed in genuine surprise.

The officer eyed him with a cool, disconcerting directness. "We draw the lines pretty close—have to in a camp like this. No offense, I trust." With a smile and a careless wave of the hand he moved on, leaving Pierce to stare after him until he was swallowed up by the crowd in the gambling-room.

A blow in the face would not have amazed Pierce Phillips more, nor would it have more greatly angered him. So, he was ostracized! These men who treated him with such apparent good-fellowship really despised him; in their eyes he was a renegade; they considered him unfit to know their women. It was incredible!

This was the first deliberate slight the young man had ever received. His face burned, his pride withered under it; he would have bitten out his tongue rather than subject himself to such a rebuff. Who was Rock? How dared he,? Rock knew the girl, oh yes! But he refused to mention her name—as if that name would be sullied by his, Pierce's, use of it. That hurt most of all; that was the bitterest pill. Society! Caste! On the Arctic Circle! It was to laugh!

But Phillips could not laugh. He could more easily have cried, or cursed, or raved; even to pretend to laugh off such an affront was impossible. It required no more than this show of opposition to fan the embers of his flickering desire into full flame, and, now that he was forbidden to meet that flying godless, it seemed to him that he must do so at whatever cost. He'd go to that dance, he decided, in spite of Rock; he'd go unbidden; he'd force his way in if needs be.

TRADING IS ACCELERATED

New York, Dec. 11.—With fears regarding an increase in the bank rate eliminated for another week, nothing stood in the way of higher prices and vigorous operations for the rise were resumed in today's session. That the preponderance of opinion was still decidedly bullish was demonstrated by the manner in which the trading pace was accelerated when stocks started to move up again.

Buying was quick to follow indications on parts of special stocks that they were ready to go ahead with the result that transactions showed a notable increase in the volume of the preceding session and substantial advances occurred in many representative issues.

Impressive accumulation preceded in C. and O., Atlantic Coast Line, Norfolk and Western, New York Central, Atchison and other standard investment issues furnishing strong ground work for bullish operations in the market.

Heavy profit taking in the industrial list was absorbed without important recessions and the general market maintained a strong tone through the last hour.

The market closed higher.

The new Lloyd picture is said to represent not only the most accurate drama of Alaskan life ever made, but is enacted by a cast the like of which has seldom, if ever, been seen in a single attraction heretofore.

Italy's Land Problem

Land reclamation work with which Italy has given employment to hundreds of war veterans, is beginning to approach completion. In all, 80,000 acres have been set aside for this purpose, some of the land being the gift of the king to the men who should accomplish its reclamation. More than $3,000,000 has been granted for the work. Hitherto some of the districts have been malarious and virtually uninhabitable. Although Italy has vast tracts of such lands which are not only useless but positively dangerous to health, it is still disputed whether it is economically feasible to reclaim them. In other words, it is believed by some that the produce of the reclaimed lands will not be sufficient to pay off the amounts of money expended on them.

The New Androcles

Gen. Hugh Drum, apropos of the war in the Riff, told a story in Washington the other day.

"It seems," he said, "that a young French lieutenant serving in Africa found a lion that was laid up with a thorn in its foot, and like Androcles took the thorn out.

"Well, the lion was so grateful that it ran over the list of officers in the young lieutenant's regiment and devoured them all, so that in a few weeks the fortunate young man found himself promoted to a colonelcy."

Tourists Enrich Canada

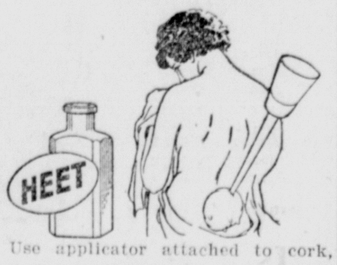

Tourists from the United States took $150,000,000 in revenue to Canada in 1925, according to estimates of Canadian government officials. This sum is equal to a quarter of the value of the Dominion's wheat crop and approximates the value of the annual mining output of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia combined. More than 2,000,000 American automobiles, it is estimated, have crossed into Canada this fall. They carried approximately 9,000,000 people, or a number equal to the total population of Canada.

Can-Opener's Activity

The plow is regarded by those who have made a special study of this subject as the most important tool of civilization, but the can-opener seems to be gaining.—Ohio State Journal.

Says--Now Stiff Joints Must Go!

New Discovery Limbers 'Em Up and Even the Creaking Ceases

Yes; it's true—the world progresses.

All you have to do nowadays to limber up that stiff, rusty knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of miracle working substance from a tube.

Then rub it on the offending part for about a quarter of a minute or until it soaks through the skin and disappears on its errand of mercy.

Then read the evening newspapers and go to bed.

The chances are that your misbehaving knee joint will lose its "creak" while you are dreaming about the high fences you used to leap when you were a youngster.

'A'nd in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "you'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sportiest clothes and walk briskly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are not as old as they think you are."

Joint-Ease they call this wonder working substance, for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to limber up the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint, or reduce the swelling, Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's a good name for a good, clean stainless prescription that in just a few months has proven to a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever.

But Joint-Ease is for bothersome joints, whether in knee, ankle, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale is immense.

Johnson's Pharmacy and Economy Drug Co. have a big supply of it and druggists everywhere report a big demand.
